Many Canadians Draw Horses In Irish Sweepstake

Persons in Dominion With Starters and Non-starters Total 104

Prizes on Grand National $8,000,000

DUBLIN (CP)—One hundred and four Canadians drew horses today in the 23rd Irish Hospital Sweepstake. Each lucky ticket is worth $2,300 whether the horse starts or not. Large prizes await those holding horses finishing first, second or third in Friday's Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, England.

Two Canadians, Blue Bids and Omega, drew horse tickets on Blue Shirt, joint favorite in big race. Herbert L. Cameron drew a ticket on Delachance, another of the favorites.

On Rock Lad, Canada's only entrant, owned by H. R. Bain of Toronto, one Canadian ticket was drawn to Joanie.

As usual only noms de plume and ticket numbers of Canadian winners were given out.

TICKETS BY MILLION

Out of a spinning cylinder holding nearly 5,000,000 tickets, Irish nurses this morning began drawing approximately 4,000 winners in the lottery.

The draw will continue tomorrow.

The total intake of the sweep was announced as $2,746,002 ($13,730,010). Of that amount $1,611,520 (more than $8,000,000) will go to prizewinners in amounts ranging from $100 to $30,000. The prize fund is divided into 16 units of $100,000 each. The balance of $11,520 goes for 50 residual prizes of $230 each.

"Norman," with ticket D-J-44269, was the first Canadian to draw a horse in the sweep.

He drew Danell, a long shot. As customary only ticket numbers and noms de plume of Canadian winners were given out.

LUCKY CANADIANS

The following Canadians drew tickets:

On Royal Daniel I—"Norman," D-J-44269.

On Stalbridge Park (25 to 1)—"Mutt," H-2479; "R.A.G.," NX-38590.

Nudist Eludes Police Search

A nude man in the bushes on Courtney Street who alarmed a woman resident yesterday afternoon was nowhere in sight when police went to search for him.

The woman, a resident of Vancouver Street, advised police she had seen a naked man in the bushes. Constables Tom Stevenson and James Strong sped to the scene but despite a thorough search the nudist had fled.

Erythroniums Greet Spring Here

U.S. House Votes Roosevelt's Bill For Larger Navy

Bag of Mail Is Found in Clyde

GLASGOW (CP)—One of two bags of Canadian mail lost in the Clyde while being taken ashore at Greenock Friday on the liner Duchess of York was recovered today and brought here for examination. Search is continuing for the second bag.

Chinese Defences Hold Out in Fierce Fighting Along Ancient Waterway

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japanese shock troops failed to crack Chinese defences today in fierce fighting along the ancient Grand Canal.

Despite artillery shelling, the Chinese clung to their trench lines on the south bank of the canal 18 miles north of Suchow.

The Japanese were fighting to effect a crossing and continue their advance down the Tientsin-Lukow railway line to Suchow, where the line crosses the east-west Lunghai Railway.

Both sides admitted heavy losses.

CHURCH BOMBED

A dispatch reaching Shanghai said a German Catholic church at Lincheng, on the railway north of Hanchow, had been bombed by Japanese planes before troops seized the town. Four occupants were killed and 200 wounded.

BRITISH LABOR AGAINST UNION

LONDON (CP)—Labor leaders addressing political meetings during the week-end made it clear Labor is not prepared to enter a coalition with the government, if an opportunity to do so should arise.

SPRING HERE, SCIENCE SAYS

Earth Passed Over Vernal Equinox at 10.43 Last Night

Spring is here, and no neighborhood prophet but science says so.

Whirling through space at 1,000 miles a minute the earth passed over the vernal equinox at 10.43 last night. For a brief moment the sun stood directly over the equator. And spring officially arrived according to all the knowledge of the ages.

Even the weather recognized the season and the sun was shining between showers this first spring morning.

Erythroniums, British Columbia's own spring flower, are almost in full bloom for spring this year. The Easter lilies as they are sometimes called have been flowering for two weeks.

According to the Dominion Meteorological Bureau here the forecast today is for increasing winds from a southeasterly direction, little change in temperature and showers.

Last night the temperature fell to a minimum of 34 degrees here. There was three degrees of frost on the ground.

The vernal equinox seems to have brought mild weather to all western Canada. At Penttichew the mercury showed 22 degrees and in Kaslo 21 degrees which is not cold for the interior.

The prairies were warmer with Winnipeg basking in 38 degrees.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The first day of spring was ushered into Vancouver today by snow flurries and sleet which fell on crocuses and daffodils which had been blooming for a month.

By 11 a.m. the clouds were breaking, and the sun shone intermittently.

Snow lay over parts of the West Kootenay interior after falling almost all of last Friday.

OIL BOARD IS MEXICO PLAN

Cardenas-Labor Group Operating Nationalized Foreign Properties

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A petroleum board jointly representing the Cardenas government and labor ventured today into operation of Mexico's nationalized oil industry.

The board assumed responsibility for producing gasoline and other crude oil products to supply the country's needs on the same scale as when the oil industry was controlled by 17 United States and British companies.

A two-year controversy between foreign oil companies and the industry's 18,000 union laborers brought about nationalization of the industry under a presidential decree last Friday.

MOVE IS POPULAR

United States Ambassador Joseph Daniels asserted "my information is that the majority of Mexicans are with President Cardenas" backing expropriation of the $400,000,000 foreign-owned oil industry.

The United States envoy indicated the foreign companies would have to exhaust all legal appeal steps before they could expect diplomatic support in fighting expropriation.

SPANISH REBEL DRIVE HALTED

HENDAYE, France (CP)—

The Spanish insurgents' great Aragon offensive was at a standstill today just short of the Catalan border. Advance bases were being consolidated for a new drive in the Torrevella sector.

An attack launched from the Alcaniz-Alcorisa line Sunday gave the insurgents the village of Codenera, 10 miles southeast of Alcaniz, but they failed to take Torrevella, just south of Codenera.

Cities Say Land Must Be Relieved From Tax Burden

Union Proposes Schools, Hospitals, Social Services Be Charged Elsewhere

Removal of a substantial part of the tax burden on land was urged upon the Rowell Commission today by the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

A brief presented by Harry I. Sullivan, K.C., union solicitor, urged that costs of education, hospitals and social services be completely removed from land taxation. All three are now partially contributed to from levies on real estate.

The union argued that indigency and unemployment, and all costs incidental to them, were a national responsibility.

They submitted the following statements in detail:

That changing forms of wealth and difference in assessments have rendered a tax on real property a very unsatisfactory basis on which to raise municipal revenue, or even on which to compare taxes.

That municipal responsibilities have been increased and no adequate means provided for raising the necessary revenues.

That "grants" are not a satisfactory means of financing.

That the citizens of municipalities should finance strictly local services (such as maintenance of streets, drainage, police, public lighting and fire protection) which were largely for the benefit of the property

(Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Economy or Taxes Seen Prime Issue

Governments Spent "High, Wide and Handsome," Says Chief Justice Rowell

Governments of Canada—Dominion, provincial, and municipal—have been spending "high, wide and handsome" and must face the issue of paying for it, Chief Justice Newton W. Rowell, chairman of the Rowell commission, commented this morning when Vancouver was pressing its case for tax relief.

Mr. Rowell said that from 1930 to 1936 the national debt had gone up $820,000,000.

"Can that continue?" he asked, "surely it cannot go on indefinitely. Isn't it the truth that all governments have been spending beyond their means—in the language of the streets spending high, wide and handsome."

"This can't go on. Isn't that the situation we must face, the question of living within the limit of our ability."

Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart of Vancouver said the term "ability" was now in issue and he contended the ability of the city to pay had been exceeded.

"Yes, but people seem to lose sight of the fact that the bill must be paid. The governments can only get their money by taxing the people of Canada. Shifting the burden from one to the other doesn't reduce it," the chairman said.

"The situation is," he continued, "that some of the provinces have got in so badly they have borrowed heavily. If the Dominion carries on at the present rate it will soon find itself in a similar position."

"What we have to look at is a method of curtailing expenditure, or raising new revenues to pay the bill and deciding what form it is going to take."

"Well, it can't take the form of taxing land further," said Counsel McTaggart.

CHAMBERLAIN TO STATE PLANS ON THURSDAY

While Troops Withdrawn by Duce From Libya Return to Italy Committee of Cabinet in London Drafts Speech on Britain's Foreign Policy Throughout Europe Prime Minister Is to Make in Commons

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons today he would make an eagerly awaited statement of British foreign policy on Thursday—presumably an announcement of what Britain would do if Germany were to invade Czechoslovakia.

Intensive preparations for the statement were under way. A cabinet subcommittee discussed the matter and will meet again tomorrow. There also will be a full cabinet session tomorrow.

Despite France's urging, Britain has refused to commit herself regarding defence of Czechoslovakia.

Mr. Chamberlain told the Commons today that the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador to Italy, and Italian Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano had made "good progress" in negotiations for a British-Italian accord. He added, however, that no agreement had been reached.

U.S. IS INFORMED. James Griffith, Labor, asked the Prime Minister if the United States had been consulted during "recent events in Europe."

Mr. Chamberlain replied: "The British government have kept the United States government generally informed of their attitude toward recent events in Europe."

William Gallacher, Communist, was ruled out of order when he demanded to know "what this attitude is."

ROME (AP)—The first detachment of Italian troops withdrawn from Libya as a concession to Great Britain came home today, and informed sources predicted a British-Italian friendship accord would be concluded by Saturday.

Almost 4,000 officers and men which helped garrison Italy's North African colony disembarked at Naples.

Informed persons said the accord would provide for British support of recognition for Premier Mussolini's Ethiopian conquest through the League of Nations and withdrawal of all Italian combatants from the Spanish civil war through the 27-nation Nonintervention Committee.

These sources said Italy would discontinue construction of certain fortifications in Eritrea which might threaten Red Sea traffic and therefore menace the Suez Canal, "lifeline" of the British Empire.

Both nations would exchange Mediterranean and Red Sea military information.

Seven Thousand Single Jobless

Rupert W. Bone, Vancouver relief officer, told the Rowell Commission today that there are between 7,000 and 8,000 unemployed single men in Vancouver at present. They include men living on deferred pay from forest camps and 2,700 odd who are partly handicapped physically.

Answering Chairman Rowell's question, he said about 80 per cent were laborers and 20 per cent were "white collar" workers. Mr. Bone said he had no records showing where each man came from.

Lithuanian Cabinet Offers Resignation

Not Accepted at Once By President; Capitulation to Poland Issue

KAUNAS (CP-Havas)—Having taken the unpopular step of yielding to Poland's ultimatum last Saturday, the Lithuanian cabinet resigned today.

President Antanas Smetona refused to accept the resignation until the expected early return of Premier Juozas Tubelis, seriously ill in Switzerland during the crisis. The Minister of Commerce and Communications, Jokubas Staniskis, is Acting Premier.

It was predicted last week if the cabinet were forced out as a result of the Polish demand for resumption of diplomatic relations, broken off by Lithuania 18 years ago when Polish forces seized Wilno (Vilna), only a pro-German cabinet could be formed.

Foreign Minister Stasys Lazoras and Minister of Justice Stasys Silingas were the first to tender their resignations.

Throughout last week's tension

Lazoras favored reconciliation with Poland. Saturday's compliance with Poland's army-backed ultimatum, however, affected the Foreign Minister's political position and caused countrywide bitterness.

STUDENTS IN MOURNING. Lithuanian student associations today declared a 10-day period of mourning to protest the nation's capitulation to Poland.

Association members decided to wear black crepe on their caps until March 31, the date when Lithuania agreed to exchange diplomatic envoys with Poland, as demanded in the Polish note of last week.

There was a brief flurry Sunday night at the state opera when a leftist newspaperman tried to read a statement demanding the government resign. Police hustled him off, but the audience cheered wildly.

TWO JAPANESE HELD IN U.S.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—
Two Japanese officers, New York residents, today were held for questioning by police after they were found, the police said, making photographs of the Harvard Bridge and the surrounding area.
The pair identified themselves as Lieutenant-Commander Yui Mashimura and Engineer-Officer
S. Ito. Harvard Bridge links Cambridge and Boston, three miles west of the Boston navy yard.
The navy intelligence section in Boston was notified and police suspended further questioning pending advice from the navy.
Meanwhile, the two men were held without charges.

discover who set off a time-bomb Sunday night in front of the veranda of the home of Rocco Perri, once self-styled "king of the bootleggers." The building was badly damaged but no one was injured, though the blast shook the centre of the city.
John Atkinson, who witnessed the explosion, said that 10 minutes before the blast he had seen an automobile stop in front of the house, scene of the murder several years ago of Bessie Perri, wife of Rocco Perri. Atkinson said the car was parked for some time, but he did not take the license number.

FULL EMPIRE CONSULTATION

House of Commons today that his government is "most ready" to communicate and consult the Dominions' high commissioners on any matter of common concern to the fullest extent which the respective governments may desire.
He was replying to I. C. Hannah, Conservative, who asked the Prime Minister to consider giving the Dominions a representative in London of ambassadorial status and some right to be consulted in the foreign policy of the Empire.
Mr. Chamberlain said the status

No British Bowing To Japanese in China

LONDON (AP)—His Majesty's government does not want Britons to bow to Japanese sentries.
Asked in the House of Commons today if the Japanese command at Peking had not issued orders that foreigners bow to Japanese guards, Prime Minister Chamberlain replied:
"Instructions have been sent that if this practice exists it should be discontinued at once."

Whitney Tells Money Troubles

New York Broker Says He Borrowed $1,082,000
From Brother

NEW YORK (AP)—Richard Whitney, 48, expelled former president of the New York Stock Exchange, disclosed at a public hearing today that he was in serious financial straits in November, 1937, and that his brother, George Whitney, a partner in J.
P. Morgan & Co., came to his aid with a personal loan of $1,082,000.
The grey-haired defendant, who has pleaded guilty to two grand larceny indictments, denied he was "shielding" any of his associates in the investigation of the collapse of Richard Whitney & Co., Wall Street brokerage firm.
He insisted he alone was responsible for the crash.
Assistant Attorney General
Ambrose V. McCall, conducting the hearing, brought out that the purpose of the million dollar loan guaranteed by Whitney's brother was to enable Richard Whitney to redeem securities originally in the New York Stock Exchange gratuity fund.
Whitney testified he had misappropriated these securities and pledged them to the Corn Exchange Bank for a loan.

Vote Today In East Edmonton

By-election First Federal Test of Social Credit Since 1935

EDMONTON (CP)—Electors of Edmonton East went to the polls today to choose a successor to the late Dr. W. S. Hall as their representative in the House of Commons. Dr. Hall, a Social Credit nominee, was elected in the 1935 general election.
The polls opened at 8 a.m. and will close at 6 p.m.
Three candidates are seeking election in the first federal test of Social Credit since the 1935 voting. R. C. Marshall is the Liberal candidate, Orvis A. Kennedy is the Social Credit nominee and Walter W. Cleveley carries the Conservative colors.
Each has had support from members of Parliament.
Mr. Marshall, a former mayor of Calgary and member of the Alberta Legislature for that city, advocates a housing scheme as the main plank of his platform.
Mr. Cleveley's main argument was that a Conservative victory would be a protest against alleged federal discrimination against Alberta.
Mr. Kennedy insisted throughout his campaign that the main issue was whether the people should be freed from "financial bondage."

Naval Hero In Vancouver Dies

T. E. Newton, Who Fired
Torpedo Sinking Blucher, Passes

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thomas
Edward Newton, 43, gunlayer aboard the British cruiser Arethusa who fired the torpedo which sank the German battleship Blucher off the Dogger Banks in January, 1915, died Sunday in a hospital here. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning.
Newton was one of the three men saved when the Arethusa herself was sunk in February, 1916.
The crew of the Arethusa managed to save 124 seamen from the Blucher. One of them, Cadet Schmidt, met Newton several years ago when the German training cruiser Karlsruhe visited here.
Newton is survived by the widow and three daughters here.
His mother, Mrs. W. Newton, lives in Lestock, Sask. One sister, Mrs. T. Keep, lives in Earl Grey,
Sask., and another, Mrs. M.
Edwards, at Lestock. A brother, Harry, also lives at Lestock, and another, James, at Red Deer, Alta.

Parliamentary Librarian and Former Minister Passes in 80th Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Martin
Burrell, 79, parliamentary librarian and a minister in the Borden war-time cabinet, died at his home here Sunday after an illness of three weeks.
He is survived by the widow.
The funeral service will be held here Wednesday in Christ Church Cathedral with Dean E. F. Salmon, the rector, officiating. Interment will be in Beachwood Cemetery.

Speech Causes LONDON STORM

New Parliamentary Labor
Secretary Accused in Commons of Fascism

LONDON (CP)—Alan Lennox-
Boyd, only three weeks ago
appointed parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Labor,
today was the centre of a storm
in the House of Commons.
On the Conservative back-benches Mr. Lennox-Boyd was known for his Fascist sympathies. When, as a junior member of the government, he first rose
in the House to answer questions
Labor members ironically greeted him with cries of "Franco's deputy!"
In the House today they bag-gered the government over an alleged statement by Mr. Lennox-Boyd to his constituents last Friday night that nothing "could be more ridiculous than to guarantee the frontiers of Czechoslovakia when half the people of that country could not be relied on to be loyal to the government of the day."

Four Germans Killed When Loyalist Bags Machine;
One Plane Driven Off

BARCELONA (CP-Havas)—A German Heinkel military seaplane was shot down in flames and another damaged today by a lone government pilot.
Four of the occupants of the downed ship were burned to death. A fifth, reported to be a German, was brought to the Cam-

Speech Causes LONDON STORM

New Parliamentary Labor
Secretary Accused in Com-

LONDON (CP)—Alan Lennox-
Boyd, only three weeks ago
appointed parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Labor,
today was the centre of a storm
in the House of Commons.
On the Conservative back-benches Mr. Lennox-Boyd was known for his Fascist sympathies. When, as a junior member of the government, he first rose
in the House to answer questions
Labor members ironically greeted him with cries of "Franco's deputy!"
In the House today they bag-
gered the government over an alleged statement by Mr. Lennox-
Boyd to his constituents last Friday night that nothing "could be more ridiculous than to guarantee the frontiers of Czechoslovakia when half the people of that country could not be relied on to be loyal to the government
of the day."

ARCHBISHOP BACKS QUEBEC

Government's Fight on Communism Supported By Mgr.
Gauthier, Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—It would be regrettable if "very secondary" considerations of persons or parties should lead to lessening in the minds of the people the importance of the service rendered by measures against Communism, Mgr. Georges Gauthier, Archbishop Coadjutor of Montreal, said Sunday in a pastoral letter, read in Roman Catholic churches.
"God be praised," the letter said, "We have been very slow in protecting ourselves, but at last the public authorities of our province and our city have had the courage to take measures of a pressing necessity, and it would be bad grace on our part to hide our satisfaction."

owner, other services being for the community as a whole).
That "social service" and "national service" should be financed from the widest possible sources of revenue so that the charges are not concentrated on landowners.
That exemption of crown lands places a great imposition on some municipalities.
That consideration be given the establishing of a permanent commission, along the lines of the Board of Railway Commissioners, to study ways of improving relations between Dominion, provincial and municipal governments and make recommendations.
The union quoted the Harper report of 1933 to show that the huge tax burden had robbed real estate of its true value. This showed that of 1934 tax sale properties put up only 602 were sold, and the brief adds: "When properties are offered at public auction for an amount which is a little over three years' taxes and only 4 per cent are sold, the conclusion is obvious."

SPANISH REBEL DRIVE HALTED

The Spanish government accepted in principle. Gen. Franco replied his air attacks were directed against civilian populations, but against military objectives. Although the Salamanca authorities have not yet replied to the Anglo-French protest, it is understood they take the view the Barcelona air raids were directed against definitely military objectives.

an agreement on the boundary

Informed sources said the final serious hurdle for the negotiations involved the Balearic Islands, in the Mediterranean off Spain. It was said Italy had agreed to withdraw her soldiers from the Balearics, but insisted on a provision for re-entering if her interests should be threatened. Great Britain, probably because of French pressure, insisted on an agreement for absolute withdrawal and it was understood Italy finally yielded.

Fund Is British Army Memorial

LONDON (CP)—Commemorating the 20th anniversary of the fighting retreat of the British Fifth Army under Gen. Sir Hubert Gough, a national fund was opened today for the establishment of a living memorial in tribute to the army's "heroic resistance" against Germany's final and supreme offensive on the Somme in the Great War.

To perpetuate the memory of the men who fought against tremendous odds for seven days and nights, it is proposed to raise £25,000 ($125,000) for the endowment in perpetuity of two wards in St. Mary's Hospital, Paddington.

The scheme has the full approval of Queen Elizabeth, who, as president of the hospital, sent a personal donation. Men who served with the Fifth Army and their dependents will be given preferential treatment in the wards.

It is estimated more than 500,000 men who served with the Fifth Army when Germany's last effort was turned into defeat for the Allies are now scattered through the various parts of the British Empire.

Manslaughter Trial Opens

Court to View Location and Car in Case in Which G. L. Bone Charged

Arrangements for views of the location in which the accident occurred and of the car involved were made in the Assize Court this morning as a count of manslaughter opened.

Visits to the corner of Pandora Avenue and Quadra Street and to the police station where the car has been placed, were scheduled this afternoon.

Bone is charged as the result of an accident at that intersection on the rainy afternoon of December 15, in which Mrs. Willerton, a pedestrian, was fatally injured. He entered a plea of not guilty.

Cyril Jones, assistant city engineer, identified a plan made of the intersection and explained various markers on the diagram entered as an exhibit.

Dr. Oscar C. Lucas testified to the injuries of Mrs. Willerton when he arrived at the scene of the accident. She had been suffering from fractures of the left arm and leg as well as internal injuries and a cut on the top of the head, he said.

DOCTOR'S TESTIMONY
The doctor stated in his opinion death had resulted from those injuries sustained when she had been struck with great violence, either by her own momentum or that of some other object.

George Willerton, widower, told the court he had last seen his wife shortly after lunch time when she was preparing to go to a church meeting. She had been 52 years old, lightly built, in good health and very agile, he said.

Detective Percy Wm. Richards, who attended the accident as a police officer, testified he had found Mrs. Willerton lying just over the sidewalk line on Quadra Street on the property of McGavin's service station. He had assisted the doctor, on his arrival, to place the patient in an ambulance, and had then taken measurements. He gave the distance from the given point of impact to the curb-line of the southwest corner of Pandora and Quadra as 63 feet. The body lay 18 feet 6 inches from the given point of contact and the front of the car was 28 feet from the point of impact, he said.

GIVEN EVERY ASSISTANCE

The accused had given him every assistance in collecting information, the police officer then stated. The car had been equipped with good brakes and had two windshield wipers going at the time. The right-hand side of the radiator had been damaged, he said. The day was rainy and there were no skid marks, he said.

Orlan Hudson, a pedestrian who had been crossing Pandora Avenue at the time, stated he had stopped to let a car go in front of him. "It was going very fast," he said. He testified he had heard a crack and had looked around and seen an object, which he took to be a coat which had fallen from the car. Thinking there had been an accident, he returned and found the object to be a woman, who lay on the sidewalk.

The jury is composed of Reubin Tillier, foreman, James Bryant, William N. McDonald, Walter R. Shotbolt, Reginald Burton, W. P. Regan, Hugh G. McAlpine, Arthur B. Armstrong, William E. Quayle, Arthur Cooper, Edgar C. Rossiter and William A. Yule.

ADmits ONE OF TWO CHARGES

George Kitchener Before Court For Possession and Breaking and Entering

On two charges, one alleging breaking and entering of a grocery store and the other of possessing a stolen suit, George Kitchener was arraigned before Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning.

He pleaded guilty to the count of possessing a suit stolen from K. C. McConnell, 941 Richmond Avenue, whose home was entered between March 4 and 9, and not guilty to the charge of breaking and entering Peacock's Grocery, 1624 Finlayson Avenue, and committing theft.

On the suit charge he was remanded until tomorrow for sentence. The other charge was adjourned for hearing until tomorrow.

The suit was found by police at a secondhand clothing store. Kitchener, in offering an explanation to the court, said he had met a young man on the street who was carrying the suit in a box. The stranger had given him a hard-luck story and offered to sell the suit for $2. Kitchener said he paid over $2 and later traded the suit for a pair of shoes at the store.

After reading of the second charge Kitchener denied all knowledge of it and asked for particulars of what was stolen. C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, said the crown would allege theft of $2 worth of stamps from the premises.

Police are investigating the discovery of a quantity of jewelry and other property which was found at the time of Kitchener's arrest.

Hillculture is an important agricultural word these days, as scientists give increasing thought to protection of hilly land against erosion.

Rhodes Scholar Leads Separatist Move In Quebec

Paul Bouchard, Nationalist Editor, Commends Fascist Action

QUEBEC — An old-fashioned weekly newspaper office overlooking a quaint downhill-twisting street of eighteenth century Quebec, is headquarters of Paul Bouchard, leader of the French Nationalists.

In so far as he is a Fascist leader, Bouchard is the complete antithesis of Adrien Arcand, leader of the avowedly Fascist National Christian Social Party. Where Arcand orates and storms, handsome, excitable, Bouchard is pale, grey, coldly formal in thought and manner—almost pedantic. He is young, barely thirty. He returned only four years ago from a course as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, where, by the will of his patron, he presumably was indoctrinated with the virtues of Anglo-Saxon culture and the beauties of the British imperial system.

ADVOCATES SECESSION

Yet today Bouchard is leading a movement not only for the secession of French Canada from the Dominion, but for the practical extinction of Anglo-Saxon culture and expropriation of the British economic stake in Quebec Province and Eastern Ontario.

Furthermore in his gifts as a platform and editorial logician, Bouchard has power. When he ran for a seat in the Dominion Parliament in Quebec by-election last December, the government thought enough of the threats his candidacy carried to throw two cabinet ministers and a vast campaign fund into the Lotbiniere district to defeat him.

Bouchard does not specifically advertise his movement as a Fascist. In his crusade for separation from England and for intensive "racism" in the St. Lawrence Valley, he has followers who are not Fascists in the ideological sense.

WANTS CORPORATIVE STATE

Yet, platform advocacy apart, Bouchard is perfectly open and above board about Fascism. French Canada, he makes clear, cannot set itself up successfully as a Free State or an independent power if the British-Canadians are still in a position to use their money and their influence to control its politics as a liberal democracy.

Radio Railway Talk By Beatty

C.P.R. Head Argues in Favor of Unification With C.N.R.

MONTREAL — In a radio address in the "Whither Democracy" series broadcast from here Sunday evening, Sir Edward Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said:

"The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has invited me to speak for a few minutes on railway matters. As this is a part of a series of short addresses on the general subject of 'Whither Democracy,' I assume the invitation is to discuss railway questions as matters of general public concern."

He said he had suggested to the government that Canada's railway problem should be dealt with by "unification."

He declared unification would not transfer the ownership of the Canadian National to the owners of the Canadian Pacific, nor the ownership of the Canadian Pacific to the government. It merely proposed that a joint management should operate the two systems, and that the savings should be divided between the owners.

"It is not a conspiracy of 'big business' to take away something from the public," he said. "It is an attempt of 'big business' to co-operate with the government in saving money to the taxpayers."

ABANDONMENT

"Nor is unification a plan for tearing up railway lines without regard to public convenience, and leaving communities without railway service. It is possible to abandon a large mileage without leaving any community in Canada without railway service."

Sir Edward said that at present the turnover of railway labor, resulting from death, retirement, and other causes, was 5 per cent each year. "It would take at least five years for unification to be accomplished. As a result within five years the railways could be unified with the necessity of doing little more than cease to employ new railway workers."

"French Canada has got to establish the institutions of the corporative state," he says, "if it is to control its culture and its economic resources. Any other way means the perpetuation of English mastery, whatever our nominal political independence."

In his newspaper, La Nation, Bouchard is even more explicit.

"The mystical type of political development which has been able to renovate Italy cannot but be healthy for French Canadians and make men of them," his organ preaches.

"Benito Mussolini is the greatest man of modern times, and it takes a strong dose of imbecility not to recognize it," Bouchard writes in one of his signed editorials.

"Fascism is the political application of corporatism. It is a disciplinary ideal of order, of energy, of social dynamics and progress of which we (French Canadians) who have been 175 years under a foreign yoke and whom 100 years of the stupefying influences of the democratic-parliamentary system have incessantly soiled and degraded, stand eminently in need."

PRAISES ACTS OF VIOLENCE

Furthermore, Bouchard's paper commends Fascist violence more explicitly than Arcand's Le Fasciste Canadien. When a group of 200 young men of University of Montreal connections smashed the equipment of the Montreal Communist weekly, La Clarte, a little more than a year ago, Bouchard's paper praised them.

"These youngsters," he wrote, "are on the up and up; they act expeditiously and, above all, they know their business."

Typically of his "nationalist-separatist" agitation, however, Bouchard charged that the Communist Party's "war chest" in Quebec Province was "fed by the St. James Street (Canada's Wall Street) British via McGill University."

Yet in so far as the corporate state is a Fascist institution, and in so far as violence against the civil rights of leftist minorities is Fascist, Bouchard's Fascism has been openly declared.

"In establishing the corporative state," he insists, "French Canada will be doing no more than linking itself up once more with our native Latin culture, reinstating the institutions of our ancestors."

INSTALL HEADS OF TRAVELERS

Members of Victoria Council, No. 434, United Commercial Travelers on Saturday night installed Frank W. Willert senior councillor at the annual meeting in the K. of C. Hall.

Others elected were L. M. McCellan, junior councillor; T. B. Veitch, past senior councillor; R. W. Jamieson, secretary-treasurer; Gordon McClure, conductor; Warren W. Martin, page; W. H. Newcombe, sentinel; Adam W. Cochran, chaplain. Hugh E. Goulbourn was named for a further term two years on the executive. A. E. James, Stanley Moore and F. H. A. Norton being carried over.

S. Winterbottom and T. B. Veitch were named to represent the council at the grand council conference in the Empress Hotel on May 20 and 21. As alternative delegates J. V. Johnson and J. C. Dows were chosen.

E. G. Rowbottom, P.G.C., officiated as installing officer, with R. W. Murdoch as master of ceremonies at the event, which was attended by members of the ladies' auxiliary.

RECEIVE JEWELS

Gold jewels were presented to V. C. Palmer and F. A. Tadmor for their services as past councillors, while bronze emblems were given to W. L. Woodhouse and R. W. Jamieson, who were added to the Three or More Club. Mr. Willert and others placed in office expressed their thanks for the honors conferred upon them and the appreciation of the importance of their posts and the work of their predecessors.

Municipal Collapse Threatens Democracy

A threat to democracy in the collapse of municipal governments was seen by Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart of Vancouver who appeared before the Rowell commission this morning.

Pointing out that Canada's municipal governments must have financial aid to survive, Mr. McTaggart said there was a danger in turning municipalities over to commissions. In these days of talk about totalitarian states and fascist philosophy, municipal governments, he noted, were the cradle of the public men of the country.

Tells of History Of Marionettes

Mme. E. Sanderson-Mongin gave an interesting history of the marionette theatre in French at a meeting of the Alliance Francaise Saturday evening. The talk was illustrated by several puppet plays in French, produced by Mrs. G. Chambers of Vancouver.

Mme. Sanderson-Mongin said that marionettes were known as far back as Plato and Aristotle, who referred to them in their writings. Marionettes have been found recently in ancient Roman ruins. The speaker said that marionettes were known throughout mediaeval Europe, both on the continent and in England, Shakespeare being among the first English authors who had referred to them. She also told of some of the marionette theatres found in France.

Mrs. Howard Archibald presided at the meeting and thanked the speaker and Mrs. Chambers for assisting Alliance Francaise to supplement its bursary fund. This is presented to the best second-year student at Victoria College.

Smoking Concert Billed April 18

Members of the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion were informed at a general meeting held last week that arrangements were going ahead for the staging of a smoking concert on Monday, April 18, for the four Canadian destroyers and members of the naval barracks.

The event will take place when the Canadian fleet assembles on the Pacific for the first time. It is also planned to hold a dinner for the naval ratings of the squadron under the age of 21.

A silent tribute was paid the memory of James Dupen, veteran member of the club. A letter of condolence will be sent the bereaved family. Members expressed the hope that their president, H. R. Dawe, will have a speedy recovery from his present illness.

Medical Board For Dominion

Sir F. Banting to Head New Committee of Research Council

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Research Council at the week-end announced appointment of a committee to study the organization of medical research work in Canada.

Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of the insulin treatment for diabetes and director of the department of medical research, University of Toronto, was named chairman. This action was taken on the recommendation of a nation-wide conference on medical research held here a month ago.

Purposes of the committee are: 1. To receive suggestions for requirements in respect of medical research and in matters related thereto.

2. To consider by whom the investigations required can best be carried out and to make proposals accordingly.

3. To correlate the information when obtained and to make it available to those concerned.

4. To do such other things as the committee may deem advisable.

Tension Less Acute

EUROPE IS BREATHING A LITTLE easier today. Although the Lithuanians are not exactly falling on the necks of the Poles in jubilation over the apparent settlement of their 18-year-old dispute, the outlook in that part of the continent is brighter by virtue of the fact that comparatively calm judgment has been given a chance. Germany is taking a breather. Her government's plans for Austria have been carried out and those Austrians who may not like the arrangement have so far not been very articulate. The swastika now hangs over them as a warning of the consequences of speaking out of their turn.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler has contented himself for the time being with a general promise that Germany will respect the integrity of Czechoslovakia. Having annexed about 32,000 square miles—Austria's territorial measurement—and nearly 7,000,000 people, he naturally feels inclined to be magnanimous, at least until such time as he may consider opportune for the consignment of another pledge to the wastepaper basket. Czechoslovakian sources furnish the information, however, that the cry of "Autonomy for Sudeten Germans" already is being raised louder by leader Henlein of the Czech Nazis. Their demand is that Czechoslovakia's foreign policy be brought into line with that of Germany.

The real Czechs, on the other hand, are asking how it is possible to tolerate an authoritarian, dictatorial, Fuehrer-led movement in a democratic state. They object to the suggestion that their country be reconstructed on the Swiss foreign policy pattern—based on strict neutrality—because it would mean in reality denunciation of the French and Russian alliances, with reliance on the sort of German peace to which the former Austrian Chancellor pinned his faith; of course, with the same result. Latest indications are, however, that Czechoslovakian Nazi Henlein is diligently paving the way "from within" in order to be ready when Hitler gives the word for the application of his "new technique" of invasion.

Hon. Martin Burrell

MORE THAN HALF A CENTURY AGO Hon. Martin Burrell—who died yesterday—left his native England to become a Canadian. He succeeded in the fullest sense of the term. First as a fruit farmer in the Niagara Peninsula and from the beginning of the present century as an agriculturist in British Columbia, he later became a national figure, entering the House of Commons at Ottawa, as member for Yale-Cariboo under the Conservative banner in 1908. He was re-elected in the general election of 1911; when the Laurier administration went down to defeat before the anti-reciprocity forces led by Mr. Borden, as the late Sir Robert then was.

Mr. Burrell's intimate practical knowledge of the rural sciences led to his selection for the post of Minister of Agriculture which he filled with distinction during the period of Canada's largest immigration gains, resigning the portfolio in 1917 to become Secretary of State and Minister of Mines. He resigned from the cabinet in the latter part of 1920 to become Parliamentary Librarian—a post he occupied until his death.

Under Mr. Burrell's regime as Minister of Agriculture, British Columbia's experimental farms were established, the good work carried on by which needs no emphasis, while as Secretary of State he accompanied the Prince of Wales, later King Edward the Eighth and now Duke of Windsor, on his first tour of Canada in the summer of 1919. In later years, of course, Mr. Burrell had ample opportunity to give full rein to his varied and extensive scholastic and literary attainments and his comprehensive knowledge of Canadian affairs. He was popular with all who knew him, who admired him for his sterling worth as a citizen and public official—and his friends were legion. To his widow will go out sincere sympathy from people in all walks of life throughout the Dominion.

Deglamourizing War

ONE OF THE HANDICAPS TO WORLD peace has been the fact that war—at least the pre-war—possesses a glamour that the abstract idea of peace lacks entirely. The brass buttons, the shiny metals, the well-tailored uniforms all make hearts go thump thump, eyes grow misty and chests swell with pride of country. There is something about a soldier.

So the news from London that the uniforms the British War Office is trying out look very much like something a garage mechanic would put on before tackling a very greasy job comes as a welcome bit to those who think war is a thing to be avoided—even if that means missing out on the show as the boys march away.

The British soldiers are modeling two new types of uniform, both made of denim and both looking like overalls. Adoption of either uniform would make Tommy Atkins an unromantic figure indeed. But, possibly the sooner war is deglamourized the sooner this unhappy world will know peace.

Our Lumber Shipments

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S LUMBER EXPORTS by water for the month of February showed a decrease which put the total to the lowest level since last March. Exports on ships out of the port of Vancouver dropped from 94,740,000 feet in January of this year to 70,180,000 feet last month.

This is a discouraging factor over which the province has no control whatever. The chief reasons for the decrease are obvious. One is the state of the lumber market in the Orient, due, of course, to the conflict in China. The other is the substantial slowing up of Great Britain's housing program. There will not always be war in China—at least, we hope, not on the present scale—and there are still many slum areas in Great Britain to be demolished and replaced by modern housing, for which much timber will be required. British Columbia will profit by that activity according to her capacity to supply the demand.

It is an extraordinary thing, however, that some of our near politicians still try to blame the decrease on shipments of British Columbia lumber to Great Britain on some mysterious interference with the Canada-United Kingdom trade pact of 1932. The more worldly-wise politicians, however, have at last realized that the King government not only has done nothing to disturb that trading arrangement but has been striving with every means in its power to keep it intact—especially in view of the negotiations now going on between the British and the United States governments.

Depends Upon Hitler's Speed

IF REICHSFUEHRER HITLER SHOULD eventually succeed in subduing Czechoslovakia, either in whole or in part, it is practically certain he will continue to try to reshape that part of the map of central Europe and southeastern Europe which might gradually lead to a realization of the old imperial Berlin-to-Bagdad dream. In his agenda of proposed conquest it would not be surprising if he had written down Hungary—perhaps Roumania—as tempting morsels to be had practically for the taking.

The rich Magyar valley state of Hungary—unfriendly to Austria and Germany alike and separated by language and cultural characteristics—holds the best of the Danubian cornlands. Its acquisition would add much to the natural resources of the now expanded German Reich and would, to a considerable extent, offset the effect of intensive industrialization of the domain over which Hitler presides with all his dictatorial arrogance.

Hungary's resources are mainly those of a rich lowland soil and a climate that makes corn cultivation possible. Corn means hogs, and hogs mean the all-important "Fett," whose present shortage is causing alarm in Germany. Corn cannot be raised to advantage in Germany; the country is too far north and the summer climate is too mild to grow and ripen it properly. Post-war Hungary is only about 36,000 square miles. But the land is almost all tillable, and the people are good farmers. Almost equal to corn in importance as crops are wheat and potatoes, with sugar beets well up the list, and oats, barley, and rye in smaller quantities.

Geographically as well as agronomically, Hungary must be a tempting morsel to an ambitious mid-European dictator. It sits astride the Danube, the natural highway of the "Drang nach Osten" (On to the East!) of pre-war days. Farther downstream lie the fertile lowlands of northern Yugoslavia and the fat kingdom of Roumania—with more cornlands, and the timber and mineral resources of the Transylvanian Alps. Not to forget the oil wells! To interfere with Yugoslavia, however, would arouse Mussolini's ire. Italy's eastern aspect gives on to that country. The Brenner Pass, incidentally, is still uppermost in Mussolini's mind, despite the somewhat overdone assurances from his brother dictator in Berlin. But if Roumania came under the pan-German yoke, Naziland would brush the Russian frontier—with a crop of possibilities not difficult to visualize.

A Scottish couple have been married 75 years—probably since they first found that two could live as cheaply as one.

A judge would not allow a man and his wife to sit on the same jury. Afraid the jury would never arrive at a decision?

The eighth and ninth wonders of the world follow in rapid succession. Georgia goes west after 22 years and Nazi Germans give up Beck beer as a "luxury."

ROWELL COMMISSION PROBLEM

Maxwell Cohen, Canadian Postgraduate Law Research Student, Writing in New Republic

With sectional conflict, racial disunity and substantial disagreement over foreign policy the prospects for a pragmatic federalism in Canada would seem to be very unhappy. . . . Undoubtedly the first business of Canadian statesmanship in the next generation is to devise a workable formula of Canadian "federalism." That formula must be based upon the fundamental fact that the great problems of government in the modern state are national in scope. Local authority must yield many of its present "rights" to a centralized control. For Canada this means a formula to satisfy the postulate of national regulation as well as the demands of economic sectionalism and racial dualism. Such a formula must overcome the distrust and defensive separation of Quebec. It must enlist the goodwill and unqualified support of an independent and powerful Ontario. It must somehow reach and embrace the very real isolation of the Maritimes and British Columbia. And it must resolve at the source the chronic and rebellious disaffection of the prairies. In a word, it is a stupendous task for political compromise and synthesis.

Loose Ends

DIRT FARMER

IT WASN'T until today that I realized that some people actually believe what they read in this space—an alarming thought. I realized it today when a friend of mine, who used to be a successful newspaperman, came in here and told me what this column had done to him. He used to be a successful newspaperman, but after reading this column for some years he said he had been overwhelmed by a longing for the country; for leaf mould and early peaches and good barnyard stuff. He said his longing had grown so strong after a few years of reading this column that he bought a farm up around Cobble Hill somewhere and retired there to live on the soil.

He said it was all right at first, but when he found he actually had to work on the land, instead of merely writing pieces about it, he didn't like it so well. He showed me his hands, all calloused and rough from holding a shovel, and he said every muscle in his body ached, and he said he was never comfortable any more except when he was asleep. He showed me how his clothes had become seven sizes too large for him because all his old plumpness had disappeared.

All he had got out of his farm so far, he said, were a few apples, some rather inferior carrots, an old cow, some fruit trees full of woolly aphids, and a few chickens who hadn't yet mastered the art of laying eggs. And he said when he came in at night, all tired out, all calloused and sore, and sat down and read in this column about the joys of rustic life and the attractions of leaf mould and the splendor of good barnyard stuff, well, it made him pretty mad.

He said he had come to offer me his farm at a bargain, cow, chickens, woolly aphids and all, so I could make good my rustic boasts. When I refused to buy it, he said he had known from the beginning that I was a fraud. He said he proposed to stop working his farm, and to start writing about it. In that way he expected to become a successful agriculturist like me before long.

DEMOCRAT

MR. SCHUSCHNIGG, the former Chancellor of Austria, is confined in his house with plenty of Nazi soldiers around him, "for his own good," but while this must be uncomfortable, especially when you may be pretty sure you will soon be murdered according to the Invariable Nazi formula, still, Mr. Schuschnigg can take comfort in this thought—he is now an international hero. Democrats the world over are idolizing the man who tried to save the independence and the democracy of Austria.

This is interesting because Mr. Schuschnigg was a dictator like the other dictators and had no use for democrats at all. In fact, it seems to have escaped the notice of many democrats that Austria was a fascist state before Hitler paid his recent formal call. True enough, as I saw for myself last summer, the Austrians didn't look quite so regimented as the Germans, but they had no voice in their own affairs, and they didn't seem to want any. They left everything to Schuschnigg, the dictator, as they had done to that other noted democrat, Dollfus, who was murdered by the Nazis, but was a perfectly good fascist, too.

A lot of people are attacking the Chamberlain government for its failure to fight for the preservation of democracy and freedom in Austria, even though they didn't exist. It would have been a remarkable joke if Britain had precipitated a world war, likely to exterminate civilization, for the purpose of saving Austria for democracy and then finding that Austria didn't want to be saved. Apparently a majority of Austrians are delighted with the new arrangement. Why we should have forced our views upon them is not quite clear.

Nor, if this matter is to be put on high moral grounds—the grounds usually adopted by critics of the Chamberlain government—is it clear why we should fight for Austria when we wouldn't fight for China or Ethiopia, who were as much entitled to our protection under the covenant of the League of Nations. Japan is conquering a far larger and greater people than the Austrians and becoming a far greater menace to this part of Canada than Germany, but we're not doing anything about that. I suppose we should fight for the Austrians because they are white, and very charming people.

SKEPTIC

IT IS EXTRAORDINARY and a little discouraging to find out how skeptical the public is getting to be about everything. Today, for example, I had proof of an astounding cynicism on the part of the intelligentsia. You won't recall so unimportant a fact, but recently I said I had bought a new wheelbarrow (1938 model; color, red). Today a lad who drives a delivery car for a large store stopped at my house and asked if it were really true that I had bought a new wheelbarrow, as alleged.

He said there was grave doubt about it among the other drivers in the store and he had been delegated to find out the truth. He said he didn't believe for a minute that I had a red wheelbarrow. He said he supposed it was just another of my outrageous inventions to fill this space. He didn't blame me, really, but he just wanted to know. So he was led kindly but firmly out into the garden and there, glistening beautifully in the sun, was my red wheelbarrow. The driver said he was amazed. After this, maybe people will believe me.

LESSON FROM EUROPE

From New York Post

Hitler's coup warns us: First, that our own welfare lies in avoiding any entangling alliances, in keeping out of Europe's quarrels, in rejecting the notion that, somehow, we can save Europe from herself.

Second, the lesson that our own insurance against Fascism lies in good government here at home—above all, in representative government that really represents the people. Fascism in Germany and Italy, Communism in Russia, were basically begotten by the failure of previous regimes either to represent their people or serve their needs. The fate of Austria is the fate of a frustrated nation.

Bennett Valedictory Treasured By Hearers As Lifetime Event

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA.

THE RETIRING Conservative chieftain, according to the verdict of all who heard him at the recent National Conservative Conference here, delivered a moving valedictory from the position which he has held for some 11 years—five and a half of them as Prime Minister of the Dominion. The incident will remain one of the impressive memories in the lifetime of all who heard him.

The height of the drama of the occasion came, it is generally agreed, when Mr. Bennett took the gathering into his confidence and revealed the real fears which he holds for his physical condition.

He had no fear of dying in harness, the veteran chieftain declared, and added that if that were the only hazard he would not be quitting his post.

Then he proceeded to tell the delegates that what his doctors had warned him against was the prospect that unless he laid down the burden which he was carrying, the prospect would be not so likely death as a condition of helpless paralysis, suddenly occurring.

Mr. Bennett declared that he could not endure the thought of dragging out his lifetime "a burden to my friends and to all around me."

THE RETIRING leader then commended the poor and the underprivileged to the special consideration of the party and of whoever might be his successor. He himself, he said, had always been particularly mindful of the less fortunate fortunate classes and individuals among the citizenship of the Dominion. He hoped that the party would always be sympathetic towards them.

There was more drama as Mr. Bennett told the story of his rise in life from a poor boy down in New Brunswick to the leader of a great political party and Prime Minister of the country. He told it simply, not in terms of boasting, but of sincere appreciation of the opportunities which a particularly benignant Providence had cast in his path. He described as the highlight of a career that had brought him far more of success than he considered his best efforts could have deserved the chance that he had had for five years to serve his country as Prime Minister at a period when he believed his talents had been of some usefulness.

WHEN the chieftain finished his valedictory, there was a frankly sentimental scene in the conference as the veteran members of the party stood up one by one and paid tribute to the debt which Canadian Conservatism owed him for his unsurpassed expenditure of health and fortune in its cause over the past 15 years.

The most moving tribute is said to have been the one voiced by R. S. White, M.P. for Mount Royal, and the oldest member of the present Conservative Parliamentary group. Mr. White was of the opinion that there was no precedent in Canadian politics for the self-sacrifice which Mr. Bennett had shown as a party leader, both in his disregard of his own physical welfare while in office and in his generosity from his own purse in Conservatism's interests.

The question about which Parliament Hill is now frankly curious is the retiring leader's plans for his future. So far he has not indicated definitely what they are, beyond a general statement that he hopes to continue to advance the interests of Conservatism under whoever may be the new leader of the party.

A story is current and fairly well authenticated, however, to the effect that while he was in England during the past summer, Mr. Bennett purchased an estate there. It is said to be in Surrey, and to be particularly remarkable for the orchard garden, which is its chief feature. The story emanates from Dalhousie University circles, where it is said that the Conservative chieftain himself disclosed it at one of the functions which the board of governors tendered him. On the assumption that the general facts are correct, it is taken for granted that Mr. Bennett's ultimate intention will be to occupy his new property. It is not believed, however, that he will be in any hurry to complete his withdrawal from Canadian public life.

CANADA'S FOREIGN AFFAIRS

From Hansard

Senator Meighen. . . I do not like at all the term "foreign affairs" in relation to Canada. Perhaps I am out of date, but it seems to me very presumptuous for us to be talking about a foreign policy. Professors write very learned books and magazine articles on the subject. I read a book a little while ago, before it was finally published, about the foreign policy of Canada. The term is altogether too embracing.

If we are to have a foreign policy we must launch upon a course of conduct wholly different and mightily more portentous than we are embarked upon today. We have external relations, of course, but that is a less ambitious term. It does seem hard to comprehend how people take this country so seriously as a great influential factor in world affairs.

I do not want to minimize our strength and our growing consequence, but this picture of Canada constantly assuming to lead democracies in matters of foreign affairs is really pretty tiresome. We had better realize just where we are and what we amount to, and behave accordingly.

LIFE STORY OF A HIT

From a New York Correspondent

Wonders never cease in Tin Pan Alley. The boys who pondered the sudden success of an old Italian folk song, "Vieni Vieni," now are brooding over another dark horse melody.

This one goes by the title of "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen," and that's Yiddish rather than German. It is a swiny thing that sets the feet to dancing. During the past month it has been played and sung intermittently across the country and may become the hit tune of the networks.

"Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen" has been the merry serenade at countless Jewish wedding parties since time well-nigh immemorial; and on the lower east side, the Roumanian inns have been employing it for a theme song for 20 years.

But it seems that a Harlem harmony team wandered into one of these Ghetto clubs last spring and was taken by the melody. They hung around long enough to memorize it in the original Yiddish and the next thing anyone knew, "Bei Mir Bist Du Schoen" had spread like musical wildfire along dusky Lenox Avenue.

Then it gravitated toward the swing dens of Fifty-second Street and later, it was brought out in sheet music.

And now a Jewish wedding-march has become a hit.

HOW A GRATEFUL COUNTRY TREATS ONE VETERAN

To the Editor:—I wish to state our case to see if we can get any justice in this city. My husband is a returned soldier without a pension. We have three children and have lived in British Columbia eight years. Came to Victoria six and a half months ago from Vancouver.

We sold our home in Vancouver to pay our expenses and living costs here. My husband got work on the defences at Albert Head. He has suffered bronchitis and asthma all this winter with working under the terrible conditions out there and getting wet so often. Therefore he missed a lot of days with sickness, and was laid off about two weeks ago because of missing time—so he was told.

Is it my husband's fault that he is suffering from his chest? No. It is because of his war service as the doctors' reports prove. Yet he cannot get a pension. They won't give him work and we are told to starve, as we cannot go on relief in Victoria.

This defence work is supposed to give preference to returned men. Why, then, did they lay off my husband just because he missed a few shifts? He can still work and is willing to. The dry weather will soon be here and he will not have the danger of getting wet, and therefore being troubled with his chest.

I ask you, if you believe in fair play, or in there such a thing? Is this the right thing to do to a

PARTY MEETS AT KAMLOOPS

Conservatives to Hold Provincial Convention in September or October

Victoria delegates returned over the week-end from an executive meeting in Vancouver of the B.C. Conservative Association, where it was decided to hold a provincial convention of the Conservative party in Kamloops, B.C., in the latter part of September or early October this year.

About 50 members of the executive attended the meeting. Three representatives were appointed to the national committee. They were R. D. Harvey of Victoria, Mayor T. A. Love of Grand Forks and J. H. Morgan of New Westminster. The trio will confer with other provincial committees on the national convention.

The meeting discussed the coming provincial by-election at Dewdney, B.C., and decided to give "all possible support" to the Conservative candidate for the legislative seat left vacant by the recent death of Dr. F. P. Patterson, leader of the party in British Columbia.

Orators Will Hold Contest

Two trophies will be at stake when the Victoria Toastmasters' Club holds its annual oratorical contest at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday, April 6, at 6.15. The Toastmasters have canceled their regular program on that evening and all past and present members of Y.M.C.A. public speaking groups are invited to attend.

Four speakers will compete for the Rose Challenge Trophy in the men's division. The cup is at the present time held by Col. D. McGugan. Those who will take part are George Morgan, Speakers' Club; F. V. Shoemaker, Toastmasters' Club; Ian Angus, Monday class, and George Hodgson, Thursday class.

"Love vs. Politics" Cleverly Given

The large audience at the City Temple Friday night was regaled with a sparkling comedy, "Love vs. Politics," presented by the Young People's Society, under the direction of Mrs. Maude Hammond. The characters of the four-act play were particularly happily cast, and elicited many laughs from the audience.

During the evening, musical numbers by Mrs. A. W. Stokes, soprano; Mrs. Ruby Moore, violin; Frank Partridge, tenor, and Miss Lorna Doull and Evelyn Watson, dancers, in an Irish reel, with accompaniment by Piper Andrew Pollock, were enjoyed.

Immigration Plan Favored

"If we could get an attractive settlement scheme started we would get a constant flow of good people into Canada. Immigration today has to be organized and financed, because conditions are totally different from what they used to be."

That was the gist of an interview at the Empress Hotel Saturday with Brigadier-General M. L. Hornby, who is in Victoria at present in connection with a brief being submitted to the Rowell Commission by the Prince George Board of Trade urging the resumption of British immigration to central British Columbia.

Brigadier-General Hornby believes Canada could find a steady supply of new settlers, from among the sons and daughters of British farmers for whom there is no agricultural opening in their own country.

Musical Art Juniors In Recital

Mrs. Allon Peebles
Hostess; Talk
By Reginald Cox

The Junior Musical Art Society held an enjoyable concert on Friday evening, through the kindness of Mrs. Allon Peebles, Newport Avenue, who extended her home for the occasion.

The president, Miss Dorothy McMicking, presided and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Reginald Cox, who delivered an interesting and educational lecture on "Modern Composers," with the assistance of several of his pupils, who presented the following piano selections: Miss Lois Hamblett, "The Sunken Cathedral" (Debussy) and "Water-Wagtail" (Cyril Scott); a piano-forte duet, "Prelude and Dance" (York Bowen) was presented by Miss Ruth Mullins and Miss Myra Oliphant.

Junior members taking part were Miss Edna Mackenzie, who gave a group of elocution numbers, "Sea Fever" (John Macfie), "The Unknown Bird" (John Hosie) and "Moving Day" (Frances Ebbs-Canavan). Donald Nelson rendered a group of piano selections by Debussy, "Valse Romantique," "The Girl with the Flaxen Hair" and "Gollivog Cakewalk."

Due to the inclemency of the weather, Miss Elaine Hart and John Fawcett were unable to appear. Several recordings of the modern composition, "The Rite of Spring" (Stravinsky) were presented by Mr. Cox, concluding the evening's entertainment.

Refreshments were served by the hostess from an artistically-decorated table, presided over by Mrs. Gordon Cameron, senior adviser of the junior group, and Miss Dorothy McMicking.

Veterans Hold Irish Concert

It was "Irish Night" at the Britannia Branch Saturday night, when the unit staged its annual St. Patrick's Day concert before about 200 in the clubrooms. An excellent program under the direction of Dave Croston was presented and thoroughly enjoyed.

"Scotty" McNair, manager of the New Westminster Royals soccer team, which met defeat by a 5 to 2 margin in the afternoon at the hands of Victoria United, offered to contribute a number to the program and proved very popular, being called back three times for encores. Frank Merryfield's sleight-of-hand exhibition won applause and other artists appearing were Tom Obee, comedian; Bert White, violinist; Jim Donaldson, songs; Bill Swetnam, songs, and R. Smith, comedian.

The Britannia Branch band, under the direction of Charles Raines, rendered popular selections during the evening. Members of the band were: B. Lashmar, J. Court, H. Banks, F. Hornsby, B. Rock, H. Hayward, F. Galley, W. Chandler, D. Smith, T. Grey, G. Dyson, E. Oliver, R. Stark, C. Berry, G. Parker, H. Case, G. Richards, L. McCorkill and G. Fry.

Members and friends of the Newfoundland Society were entertained recently at an informal St. Patrick's party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Cox, 1043 Richardson Street. Features of the evening included the adoption as club mascot of the Newfoundland puppy owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vey, and a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Coles, on the occasion of their twelfth wedding anniversary, by Mr. Beaumont Boggs, on behalf of the society. The supper table was artistically arranged, centred by an anniversary wedding cake. Tombola prizes were won by Miss Joy Hedley and Mr. A. Snow. Arrangements for the next meeting will be announced later, and all former residents of Newfoundland are asked to register with Mrs. M. O'Toole, 2607 Douglas Street.

New Courses Starting At Y.W.C.A.

Salesmanship and Household Training For Girls

A new course in salesmanship training will start tonight at 7.30 at the Y.W.C.A. It is open to any girl, and those who have not registered in advance may come and join the class tonight. The largest and latest class in this course, which is conducted by Mrs. G. Leonard, held their closing exercises last week.

HOUSEHOLD COURSE

The Household Training course will also hold a new class, commencing on April 1, and as it is limited to 20 girls, registrations should be made at once at the Y.W.C.A. In addition to the regular classroom work in cooking, laundrywork, table service, and other duties of the home, the girls receive special instruction in flower arrangement, personal hygiene, home nursing and child care, and also spend several weeks in the Practice House, where they gain really practical experience in managing a house. The course is open to any girl over 16, and there is no charge.

Although the last class held their graduation exercises on February 28, nearly all the girls were assured of positions a month before that, and many employers who had hoped to get these well-qualified girls were disappointed.

NEW COMMITTEES

At a recent meeting of the board of directors new committee governors for the coming year were appointed, as follows: Mrs. Ross Crane, girls' work; Mrs. W. MacAskill, education; Mrs. J. D. Hunter, social; Mrs. J. W. Lennox, membership, and Mrs. Roy Angus is the newly-appointed recording secretary. Miss A. J. Fawcett was congratulated on having served on the Y.W.C.A. board for 45 years, and was re-appointed as corresponding secretary for the coming year.

GRASS HOCKEY ENDS IN DRAW

VANCOUVER—The Vancouver Island All-stars and Vancouver Reys today were tied with a point each in the two-game men's grass hockey series for the O. B. Allan Cup.

The teams drew 1 to 1 here

Saturday. The second game will be played in Victoria Sunday. In a women's exhibition game Victoria beat University of British Columbia, 4 to 1.

Due to a shortage of coconut oil meal for dairy rations in this country, oil of the African palm nut and Brazilian palm nuts are being made into oil cake.

Banquet Held By Moose Order

The St. Patrick banquet held jointly by the Women of the Moose and Junior Order proved a success, with over 100 members and friends in attendance. Decorations of daffodils, ribbons of green paper, shamrocks and hollowed potatoes for flower holders, marked the tables, which were arranged in the shape of a heart, the centrepiece of the head table being a large shamrock on which was a silver bowl filled with daffodils, flanked by green tapers.

Grace was said by Mr. F. Humphrey, and Mr. M. L. Augustine, dictator of Junior Order, acted as master of ceremonies. The toast to the Supreme Order was proposed by Mr. L. Humphrey and Mr. W. D. Taylor responding, drew a vivid mental picture of Mooseheart and Moosehaven. Senior regent, Mrs. M. Carter, proposed toast to Lodge 1390, recording the progress since it was first chartered 17 years ago, to which dictator of 1390, Mr. S. Hunt, responded, stating that the future of the local order never looked brighter.

Dr. C. B. Mess in his toast to Maple Leaf Legion stated their responsibility was Moosehaven, the home for aged members, Mr. D. MacAuley responding, Herder of Legions in British Columbia, Mr. A. Bain, extended greetings from Vancouver members, and spoke briefly. Mr. L. Cox in giving the toast to the Women of the Moose, explained what a real asset they proved to the order in many ways. Deputy Grand Regent Mrs. E. Deane, who is also first dean of the Academy of Friendship, responded by describing the wide field the women cover in this great humanitarian work.

On behalf of the chapter, Senior Regent M. Carter then presented Mrs. Deane with a corsage bouquet. Toast to Junior Order was given by Mr. H. Duffield, who spoke of the opportunity and training it offered to young men in learning the true spirit of fellowship. Mr. Lloyd Silver replied. Bringing greetings from Northwest Association, Mr. W. Kettle, second vice-president, congratulated the Juniors on success of function in making it one to be remembered.

The musical part of the programme included vocal solos by Master R. White, and community singing, Stephen Russell being at the piano. Tables were then cleared and dancing enjoyed till midnight. The affair was capably convened by Mrs. M. Carter and Mr. F. Humphrey and their committees of helpers. The chapter will hold a sewing bee on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. H. Parker, 3075 Washington Avenue.

OBYPA

The Oak Bay young people will hold their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday evening. The program will be in charge of the new executive which was appointed to take the meeting for one night.

Colfax Rebekah Lodge will meet tomorrow night for its regular business. The social arranged after the meeting has been canceled owing to the death of Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Recent Weddings

WHITTINGHAM-LITTLEJOHN

Miss Margaret Ross Littlejohn, daughter of Mrs. E. Littlejohn and the late Mr. William Littlejohn of Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Eric Whittingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whittingham of Leigh, Lancashire, England, at a ceremony performed by the Rev. A. E. Cooke at the rectory of St. John's United Church, Vancouver, on Saturday evening at 7.

The bride was attired in a tailored suit of deep blue, smart sailor hat and dark blue accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Agnes S. Littlejohn and her cousin, Miss Peggy Macneil. Mr. George Littlejohn acted as groomsmen.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Littlejohn, who received the guests wearing a gown of blue georgette. The bride table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, and tall white tapers, pink and white being the color scheme.

GEORGE-SINGER

St. Mark's Church was decorated with spring flowers for the pretty ceremony which united in marriage Ann Jessiman, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Singer, 853 Cloverdale Avenue, and Mr. Albert Charles George, second son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. George, 3171 Highway Street, on Saturday evening. Rev. O. L. Jull officiated, in the presence of a large congregation.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a radiant picture in her simply fashioned frock of soft white satin, with a yoke of lace and long full sleeves ending in tight cuffs of lace. Her veil was arranged beneath a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white freesias, and pink roses, carnations and sweet peas.

Attending the bride was her cousin, Miss Mary Duncan, of Duncan, in a pretty frilled frock of wildrose pink net over taffeta, with a bolero jacket, a wreath of pastel flowers beneath a blue lace veil, and silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of mauve, apricot and pink stocks, tied with mauve ribbon.

Mr. Harold George was best man, and ushering the guests to pews tied with flowers and white ribbon were Mr. William George and Mr. Walter Singer.

Mrs. F. W. L. Moore presided at the organ, and as the register was being signed, Miss Elsie George sang "Day of Golden Promise."

After the service, over 100 guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Singer in St. Mark's Hall, which was decorated with flowers, and during the reception, the bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch. Mrs. Singer wore a frock of black crepe embroidered in white, with black accessories, and Mrs. George wore a frock of soft blue and a wide-brimmed matching hat. Both wore corsage bouquets of white carnations and freesias. The bride's cake, standing between silver vases of flowers, centred the supper table.

The couple left for a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Bellingham, the bride wearing a smart two-piece jigger suit of British-tan woolen material with brown accessories. They will reside on Princess Avenue on their return.

Among the gifts were a library table from the gardeners and outside staff of the city schools, and a fruit dish from the staff of Quadra Primary School, and a silver cake plate from the A.Y.P.A. of St. Mark's.

The guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. A. Duncan, Mrs. J. H. Duncan, Mrs. C. E. Bradley and her daughter, Doris, all from Duncan; Mrs. S. C. Kerley, grandmother of the bridegroom, Bellingham; Mrs. P. Rippon and Mr. Stanley Rippon, Tacoma.

TAYLOR-GRIFFIN

At St. Mary's Church on Saturday evening Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn united in marriage Jessie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Griffin, Mowat Street, Oak Bay, and Mr. Edward Taylor, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, 2528 Rose Street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was an attractive figure in her pretty gown of midnight blue, with hat and accessories to match, and a shoulder corsage bouquet of Callisander roses and carnations. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Violet Griffin, who wore a powdered blue patterned silk dress with hat and accessories to match and a corsage bouquet of carnations. Mr. W. James Griffin supported the groom.

Following the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Griffin receiving the guests in a smart knitted ensemble in the new rust shade, with a becoming brown hat, assisted by Mrs. Taylor in a black silk gown and black accessories. They both wore corsage bouquets of pale pink anthurium.

The rooms were decorated with spring flowers and the three-tier wedding cake centred the table, which was arranged with vases of sweet peas and tall white lighted tapers in silver sconces.

The young couple, who were the recipients of many lovely gifts, will make their home in Victoria.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. J. C. Smith and Mrs. Grace Miller of Seattle and Mr. D. Taylor of Edmonton.

The monthly meeting of the W.B.A. Qu Alex Girls' Club was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Kathleen Burnett, 1429 Richardson Street. Mrs. A. Barraclough, the president, presided.

Plans were made for a flannel dance early in May. After the business session contests were played, the winners being: Movie contest, first, Hilda Jacques; consolation, Ruth Coates; guessing contest, first, Marjorie Morris; consolation, Mrs. C. Yeamans. Sheila McAllister was the holder of the "Lucky Cup" while Marjorie Burnett won the "Mystery Box." Refreshments were served from a table covered with an Italian cutwork cloth and having as its centerpiece a silver basket containing gay spring flowers, with shamrocks on the folds of filmy green tulle which encircled the centerpiece. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Barry Taylor, 1330 Rudlin Street, on April 8.

SOCIETY

Mrs. E. Crow Baker of "Sissinghurst," Gorge Road, and her niece, Miss Jean Ross, returned yesterday afternoon to Victoria after spending the last week in Vancouver with her sister, Mrs. H. G. Ross.

Mrs. J. D. Riddell, entertained at her home, 115 Bushby Street, at a cup and saucer, shower in honor of Mrs. J. Murphy, who was recently married. The tea table was prettily decorated in St. Patrick's Day colors and spring flowers. An enjoyable afternoon was spent. The invited guests were: Mrs. E. J. Plumb, Mrs. W. Powell, Mrs. Cavett, Mrs. H. Dyer, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. C. Baylis, Mrs. J. Riddell, Mrs. O. Griffin and Miss M. Riddell.

Miss Peggy Neve, a popular bride-to-be, was guest of honor at a kitchen shower at the home of her aunt, Mrs. R. Fuller. The rooms were tastefully decorated with spring flowers. The gifts were concealed in a clothes basket decorated with St. Patrick's Day colors, with trills of green and white paper, and harps and shamrocks caught here and there. On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage of spring flowers. After an enjoyable evening of games and contests a buffet supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beadle of 134 St. Lawrence Street, entertained a number of friends at the K. of C. Hall in honor of the 21st birthday of their son, Arthur, on March 15. The evening was spent in novelty and popular dances. Prizes were won by Ruth Standfield, Violet Holt and Robert Stevens. The tables were artistically decorated in an appropriate manner for the occasion. A three-tier birthday cake centred the table. Refreshments were served by Mrs. H. G. Brown, Mrs. E. Duncan, Mrs. B. Rose, Mrs. R. Garrett, Mrs. L. Restell and Mrs. A. Beadle.

A St. Patrick's party was given by Miss Evelyn Stringer on Friday at her home, 1317 Pembroke Street. The little guests all wore green paper shamrock hats, and the tea-table was prettily decorated in St. Patrick's colors, with an Irish "Paddy" as a centerpiece, from whose hands streamers were carried to the various place cards. Games were enjoyed by the guests, among whom were: Mary Stewart, Dorothy Groom, Isabel Hall, Bernice Dalziel, Maxine Dalziel, Ruby Harvey, Eunice Hewitt, Dorothy Robertson, Joy Fisher, Agnes Stringer and Audrey Rylands.

Miss June McAllister entertained a large number of young friends at the tea-hour yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McAllister, Cambridge Street. Spring flowers were arranged throughout the rooms. Miss Marnie Sullivan and Miss Joan Anderson presided at the tea-table, which was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a silver bowl of white carnations, sweet peas and narcissi, lighted by tall green tapers in silver sconces. Misses Beverley Prescott, Doris Manning, Sandra McQuarrie and Sheila McAllister assisted in serving. The invited guests were: Misses Bunty Chatham, Ray Adamson, Buntie Sloan, Valentine Harlock, Joyce Thomson, Beverley Prescott, Margaret Stewart, Joan Anderson, Millie Pendray, Jacqueline Tweed, Anna Byron, Doris Manning, Anne Galloway, Kathleen Riley, Hazel Smith, Catherine Junget, Betty Meharey, Elizabeth Lindgren, Claudia Jesse, Margaret Howroyd, June Scurrell, Ruth Hamersley, Aileen Graham, Margaret Stevens, Rene Watson, Zelma Wile, Elizabeth Mackie, Bernice Miller, Margaret MacFarlane, Margaret Sutcliffe, Babs Pollock, Marnie Sullivan, Millie Graham, Dorothy Girwood, Jean Waddell, Helen McKinnon and Peggy Murphy.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

The fourth anniversary of the W.A. to the Canadian Legion was held in S.L.A.A. Hall. Representatives were present from Duncan with the president, C. T. McInnes, and Nanaimo with Major H. Proctor, and Capt. R. B. Longridge, 1st vice President of the B.C. Command and Capt. J. H. Frank of Victoria. The prize winners in card games were: Mrs. H. G. Grainger, Mrs. Eric Gibson, Major H. Proctor and C. T. McInnes.

During the supper period Capt. R. B. Longridge presented comrade J. C. Rathbone with the past president's badge, and Capt. J. H. Frank presented Mrs. G. G. Orr, with the past president's pin. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Orr by Mrs. H. Fielder.

Short addresses were given by Comrades Longridge, Frank and Coburn. The table decorations were beautifully carried out representative of St. Patrick's Day and the birthday cake was cut up and distributed by the president Mrs. J. B. Bell.

An interesting contest was held for those not playing cards, prizes being won by Mrs. Jola MacLean and Miss Perry. An educational competition was also arranged and resulted in J. Jones being declared the winner. Mrs. H. G. Grainger took the ladies' prize.

Young Chinese At St. Mary's Tea

"An unparalleled success so far as this branch of the organization is concerned," was the opinion expressed by Molly Shepherd, president, at the close of the home-cooking sale and St. Patrick's tea held by St. Mary's Girls' Branch of the Women's Auxiliary at St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street, Oak Bay.

The "sold-out" sign was displayed on stalls at an early hour, and the gathering enjoyed the splendid program provided by Chinese boys and girls from the Good Hope Mission, which followed. Rev. Clarence Lee told of the happiness which gave him and his people to join with Occidental friends in an effort to promote the spread of Christianity throughout the world.

Sustained applause and insistent encores were accorded the following: Recitation, Cordelia Lee; piano solo, Gloria Lee; group songs, Cordelia Lee, Rowena and Christina Liang, Dorcas Chen and Jack Chow; piano duet, Mable and Gladys Chan; violin solo, Philip Chan. Accompanist was Miss D. Brown.

Conveners of committees were: Tea, Phyllis Corbett; home cooking, Lily Burrows; candy, Sylvia Grist and Betty Albion. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn welcomed the visitors and expressed his gratitude to all who helped to make the function such an outstanding success.

Westerns Will Meet Dominoes

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

MAN O' WAR comes of age March 29. And the way we get it from Will Harbut, who is "Big Red's" personal valet, Man O' War is still the greatest horse alive. Man O' War was foaled March 29, 1917. Technically, of course, he was 21 on January 1, for every registered thoroughbred becomes a year older in the record books on the first of the year, no matter if he was born December 31.

On Samuel L. Riddle's Faraway farm near Lexington, Ky., the big negro looks after the grooming of his charge. He likes to recite the record of the horse that lost only once in 21 starts as a two and three-year-old and since has sired well over 250 thoroughbreds. According to Harbut Man O' War's teeth are still perfect, his wind perfect and his digestion first class.

Man O' War entered the stud in 1921 and is still in demand. His foals through last year averaged racing earnings of $9,366. They won 846 races, placed in 732 and showed in 645. The average per foal stands at the top among averages of 27 leading sires listed in available records.

"Big Red" has sired two Kentucky Derby winners—War Admiral (1937) and Clyde Van Dusen (1929). Man O' War himself, so honored in the Bluegrass as a Lexington American Legion Post was named after him, never won the Kentucky Derby; did not, in fact, ever race in Kentucky. He suffered his only defeat when, as a two-year-old, he ran second in the Sanford Memorial at Saratoga. Man O' War earned $249,465 in his two years on the track, but Harbut says if purses had been the same in "Big Red's" day as now he would have won $600,000.

"Big Red" does about seven miles of road work daily this time of year. A little jaunting, a little walking, a little galloping. His day starts at 4 a.m. His thick mattress of straw is changed first thing, then he breakfasts on oats, timothy and clover. Harbut grooms him at 6:30. As soon as he comes back from his workout, he is groomed again. At 11 he gets his oats and hay and some bran.

From a little after 12 until 3 Man O' War prances in the paddock then Harbut leads him back in for—you guessed it—a third grooming. It's time then for oats and hay again. Six o'clock is "lights out" time. A night man watches the famous sire's every move until he is relieved at 4 a.m.

The following item from Walter Winchell's column is interesting: Manhattan Mural: The scene is the RCA edifice just after the Toscanini broadcast of the all-Wagner program. A crowd, including Gene Tunney, awaits for the descending elevator. A sable-coated brunette speaks to Mr. Tunney: "Beautiful wasn't it?" Tunney: "Quaint mah'vils." Brunette: "Specially in the Tristan, I thought." Tunney: "Ware you, by any chance at the Met last night?" Brunette: "Nooo." Tunney: "Well, they did 'Tristan' and 'Godanzy's' conception is vastly inferior to Toscanini's." Brunette: "The Maestro is a genius." Tunney: "I can't imagine anyone greater." As the waiting group stepped from the elevator, an elderly woman pointed at him and whispered: "There's Jack Dempsey."

Denver Safeways Lose Hoop Title

DENVER—Kansas City Healey's took the United States A.A.U. basketball championship back to the cornbelt today. The Kansas beat the Denver Safeways out of the title Saturday night in a 40 to 38 decision that left 7,000 spectators screaming in near-hysteria.

Defeat Varsity 37 to 27 in Deciding Battle For Mainland Hoop Crown

VANCOUVER—Westerns, infant member of the Vancouver Intercollegiate Basketball League, loomed up today as mainland challengers for British Columbia men's senior A hoop honors and the coast province's representation in the Dominion play-downs.

Newcomers to league play, but with a lineup liberally sprinkled with former collegians, Westerns rode over a fighting University of British Columbia squad here Saturday night in the fifth and deciding game of the mainland circuit, 37 to 27.

Art Willoughby, member of last year's collegiate team, led a trio of ex-varsity snipers in the victory that dethroned last year's Dominion champion Thunderbirds and sent the Westerns into the provincial final against Victoria Dominoes.

DEFENCE COLLAPSES

Varsity battled gamely for the first quarter which ended with Westerns nursing a close 9 to 8 lead, but the vaunted collegiate zone defence collapsed after that in much the same manner as Thursday night when Westerns ran out 22 points, while their opponents were stopped with a bare three in the second and third quarters.

At half-time Westerns led 19 to 13, and were ahead 27 to 17 at the end of the three-quarter mark.

The collegians hit a fast pace in the last quarter in an effort to pull out from defeat, but were unable to do better than match Westerns' 10-point scoring mark. Willoughby dropped in 12 of his team's total points, and close behind him came Wally Mayers, veteran mainland hoop star, member of the once powerful New Westminster Adanacs and the 1930-31 Varsity cage machine, with 10.

Jimmy Bardsley, teammate with Willoughby last year when he captained the Canadian championship squad, accounted for eight points.

Teams and scores follow: Westerns—Art Willoughby 12, Dick Wright, Joe Ross 5, Wally Mayers 10, Jimmy Bardsley 8, Jack Gordon 2, Emmett Ritchie, Al Beaton, Wyck Gray and Neal Total 37.

Varsity—Ted Pallas, Pat Flynn 4, Alex Lucas 4, Ran Mathison 4, Brad Matheson 7, George Fringle 3, Byron Straight 1, Frank Turner 3 and Hooker Wright 1. Total 27.

Although the Adverts lost, 14 to 13, to Cumberland in the up-island-city Saturday night, they won the total-point series, by virtue of their 29 to 14 victory in the opening game. The weekend fixture was a close-checking affair with Victoria leading right up to near the closing whistle, only to lose in the dying seconds. May McDonald tallied eight points for the Adverts.

SCOTS LOSE

Canadian Scottish, island intermediate A boys' titleholders, invaded New Westminster over the weekend and bowed to defeat at the hands of the Royal City Club, 39 to 32, after a hard fight. They were meeting in a sudden-death match for the coast title.

The home-town team had a one-point lead at the interval—21 to 20—and in the closing half increased their margin through superior marksmanship to emerge with a seven-point victory. Scottish were off in their shooting form, bagging but two out of 14 free shots.

School Soccer Final Tomorrow

Playing through the opening rounds to the final, Mount View and Oak Bay High School soccer eleven will clash for the Colist Cup tomorrow afternoon at the Fernwood grounds at 3:45. Victoria High School, last year's winner of the cup, was eliminated in the first round by Oak Bay, while Mount View defeated Esquimalt and Mount Douglas to gain the play-off bracket.

Two Western Sharpshooters

When Victoria Dominoes go against Vancouver Westerns in the British Columbia senior men's basketball series, starting tomorrow night at the High School, they will have to watch the two players shown above. Bardsley and Willoughby are the pair of snipers who led Varsity to victory over the locals last season. In the deciding game of the mainland finals Saturday night this pair sparked Westerns to their smashing win over Varsity. The teams will meet in the second game Wednesday night. The series will be resumed in Vancouver on Friday night.

Vancouver Skiers Sweep Island Meet

Gus Johnson, Norwegian Expert, Takes Aggregate at Forbidden Plateau

By STAFF REPRESENTATIVE
The lonely mystery of the Forbidden Plateau was solved by 100 or more skiers, who found no hairy monsters, but a new winter playground, in the first ski meet ever to be held on Vancouver Island over the weekend.

Hiking for three hours to the summit of Mount Beecher, 4,400 foot guardian of this strange table land which has long been taboo to the Indians of the Comox Valley, the skiers crowned Gus Johnson of Vancouver king of slalom runners on Saturday.

Sunday, the Norwegian Canadian, who carried the colors of the Hollywood Pacific Ski Club, made it easy for the judges to award the Courtney Comox Board of Trade's cup for the grand aggregate, by hurtling through the trees over one of the longest courses on the coast to win the downhill event as well.

He received the Victoria Daily Times trophy for his slalom win.

Four to a room was usual, and some even slept on the floor at the Forbidden Plateau Lodge as the snow pilgrims gathered to test a new ski country. Vancouver was represented by over 30 skiers including some of the best in British Columbia.

Among them was Gertrude Wepala, the flying "Finness," Canadian ladies' champion, who won the women's downhill event at the plateau, but was just beaten out in the slalom race by Meta Scott of the Grouse Mountain Ski Club.

Lindsay Loutet, chairman of the Vancouver Ski Zone Committee, and one of the judges of the meet, said the plateau was ideal for the one type of race they did not hold a longlauf or cross country event. The present island downhill course of two and one-half miles was a bit dangerous, he thought, and should be widened.

JUMPS OF 300 FEET

Mount Beecher, Loutet said, was the only accessible place on the British Columbia coast, where ski jumps over 200 feet could be obtained. There was no jumping at the meet this year, due to the fact a jump has not been built yet.

Despite the depth of the snow—it was 15 feet deep and the skiers had to burrow to the alpine-cabin to brew some tea—Johnson swerved between the flags on the dizzy slalom course at 50 miles an hour. He made two runs in 42.35 seconds, Konrad Liem, of Vancouver, and another Scandinavian ace, took the zig zag run twice in 49.15 seconds.

Stan Body, of Vancouver, was the only non-Scandinavian to get in the first three. He placed second with a double run time of 46.15 seconds.

SURPRISE WIN

Vancouver skiers completely outclassed any island could produce. In most instances Victoria, Alberni and Courtenay skiers finished last on the list. Meta Scott pulled a surprise by ousting the Canadian women's champion in the slalom race, as the men in 71.15 seconds. Gertrude Wepala was timed at 72.25 seconds.

There were thrills and spills galore in the slalom race which (Turn to Page 14, Col. 2)

Wanderers Win Opening Match

Whip Scottish 6 to 0 in Cowichan Cup Rugby Fixture

Oak Bay Wanderers played through a blustering wind to a 6 to 0 victory over the Canadian Scottish senior B squad Saturday at Macdonald Park in the opening round of the Cowichan Cup knock-out series. The two tries scored by the Oak Bay boys came in the final session on the efforts of McGregor and Corcoran.

The Scots stepped out of their division to turn in a game exhibition against the Barnard Cup runners-up and nearly scored in the first half. The losers had the edge in the early play but after passing up several scoring opportunities were never dangerous.

With both fifteens striving to prevent elimination in the first game, the contest was a ruggedly fought one. In the last three Saturdays of play the losing teams have been taking it on the chin in regard to injuries, and the Wanderers-Scottish game was no exception. Three of the Scottish players were taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Bob Hughes suffered a cut on the head; George Knight was taken from the field with slight concussion, and Johnny Beck received injury to his right eye. Beck was detained at the hospital for observation.

The Wanderers scored their first try after the Scottish had lost their first man. The initial points came 15 minutes from the start of the second half with McGregor crossing the line. Corcoran scored the final points late in the match. After Knight and Beck had followed Hughes to the bench with injuries, the Wanderers dropped two men leaving only 25 men on the field for the remainder of the game.

Percy Swetnam refereed. The teams follow:

Oak Bay Wanderers—Ley, Moore, Buckler, Gornall, Thompson, Pailin, Forbes, Colthurst, G. Murdoch, Barby, McGregor, Grogan, Corcoran, Stevens and Harmanston.

Canadian Scottish—De Macedo Knight, Hamilton, A. Williams, B. Martin, Briggs, Edmunds, Hughes, Coomber, S. Martin, Willard, Beck, Warwick, Holyoak and Wallace.

NO PROTEST BY SPENCERS

Vancouver Team Takes No Action Over Hoop Victory of Gainers

VANCOUVER—Vancouver Spencer's will not protest the women's senior A basketball series they lost to Victoria Gainers last week, Ken Walton, secretary of the British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association, said here last night.

Walton said he had received a letter from the Vancouver team calling attention to the fact that only one of the two referees appointed by the association for the series had been used but no notice of protest.

Gainers won both games, played in Victoria, and the round 78 to 76. They also broke a 14-year hold on the women's basketball title by mainland teams.

MINOR LEAGUE ELEVENS DRAW

Mets and Mt. Talmie Finish Overtime Soccer Final in 4 to 4 Tie

The Merchants' Football League champions are still undecided.

Following the United-Royals battle Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Park, Mount Talmie and Metropolitans took the field, and after a nip-and-tuck scrap that went into overtime finished in a 4 to 4 tie. There will be a replay Saturday on a neutral ground.

Cullen fired home the goal late in the final half from the penalty spot that threw the score into a 3 to 3 draw at the end of regulation playing time, but in the extra session each squad sagged the hemp once and were still on even terms when the game closed.

McCorkall and Clague notched two goals apiece to account for the Mets' score. DeGirolamo accounted for two of the Mount Talmie goals and Kitching and Cullen added one each.

It was a clean game, with not a single foul being called against either team in the first half.

Trail Ice Team Wallops Calgary

CALGARY—Champions of British Columbia, the Trail Smoke Eaters will represent the far west in the western Canada Allan Cup hockey semi-finals.

In the second game of the interprovincial playoff series, the Smoke Eaters won from the Calgary Rangers 7 to 6 here Saturday night, taking the round in two straight games without a goal being scored against them.

At Trail, the British Columbia titlists beat the Alberta champions 5 to 0 last Wednesday.

Gordon Drillon Leads Marksmen

Toronto Star Takes Scoring Honors in Major Hockey; Apps Second

MONTREAL—Playing his second season on the big time, Gordon Drillon of Toronto Maple Leafs took the National Hockey League scoring title for 1937-38 last night with an unofficial two-point advantage over a teammate, Sylvanus Apps.

When Drillon was aided by Apps in scoring Leafs' second goal in a 4 to 2 defeat by New York Americans, he concluded the schedule with a total of 52 points to 50 for his pivot man, Paul Thompson of Chicago finished atop the American division and third in the league, with a total of 44.

Drillon, Moncton, N.B., boy whom Toronto brought up from the minors early in the 1936-37 campaign to replace the injured Charlie Conacher on right wing, led the league's pointmakers from the first week of the sched-

Thompson engaged in a keen fight all season with Dave Kerr, New York Rangers, but finished with a total of 89 to Kerr's 96. It was the fourth time Thompson has been named "one" goalie in major hockey.

Tiny Thompson Top Custodian

Bruins Goalie Wins George Vezina Trophy For Fourth Time

MONTREAL—Tiny Thompson of Boston Bruins won the Georges Vezina Trophy, emblematic of supremacy among National Hockey League goaltenders, for the fourth time last night as the schedule ended.

Thompson, whose brother Paul of Chicago Black Hawks finished atop the American division in scoring, held the Hawks to a single goal last night to come through with 89 goals against him, seven less than against the runner-up, Dave Kerr of New York Rangers. No one else was near the top pair, whose clubs finished first and second respectively in the American division standing. Earl Robertson of New York Americans was third with 111.

But Kerr headed Thompson in shutouts, with eight to the Boston netminder's seven. Robertson and Turk Broda of Toronto topped the Canadian division with six each.

Thompson previously won the cup, named in honor of the late Georges Vezina, who starred in Montreal Canadiens' nets for years, in 1929-30, 1932-33 and 1935-36. Normie Smith of Detroit Red Wings took it last year as he club proceeded to the league and world championships.

Coming along with a late rush, as crippled stars returned to their lineup, Canadiens seemed almost sure of second place when Paul Haynes brought them Saturday's tie. They threw rubber at Dave Kerr in the New York net all night, and if one more of the flock of shots had got by they'd have clinched the berth behind Toronto's leaders.

But Kerr was after his ninth shutout of the season and when Ott Heller gave Rangers a 1 to 0 lead in the first period his mates helped the goalie set up a stout barrier. They turned back everything until Paul Haynes broke in halfway through the third with the aid of Toe Blake and Johnny Gagnon.

COME FROM BEHIND

So the place hinged in Sunday's New York game. It seemed far beyond Americans' grasp when Nick Metz gave Leafs an early lead, and Gordon Drillon assured himself of the league scoring title by making the edge 2 to 0. Then Schirner, perhaps aroused by seeing the crown he had won for two seasons go to the Toronto youngster, stirred the Americans' second-period rally.

The rest of the night was Smith's. In their Saturday tussle Leafs (Turn to Page 16, Col. 4)

Old Hooley Smith, who's been around the National League for a while, was the toast of New York today as the creator of hockey's second subway series.

With the Montreal Maroons in 1935-36, with Boston last winter and with New York Americans this season, Hooley has earned a longer stay at Broadway. He's thrown a "natural" into New York fans' laps—a Stanley Cup play-off round between the city's Rangers and Americans—and the customers will eat it up.

Smith needed a victory last night to take second place in the Canadian division. Smith brought it to them with two third-period goals that produced a 4 to 2 margin over Toronto Maple Leafs, so 10,000 fans in Madison Square Garden acclaimed Hooley as the star-spangled club finished the schedule in the runner-up position for the first time in its history.

The Hooligan flashed in all alone to make the score 3 to 2 and a moment later he sank Red Beattie's pass to sew up the game and Ameriks' right to face Rangers. Sweeney Schirner already had raised general clamor by scoring in the second period and aiding Johnny Sorrell in the tying goal.

TIED CANADIENS

Actually, Americans stepped into a second place tie with Montreal Canadiens in the point standings. But because they have won 19 games to the Habits' 18, Ameriks take over second place for the purposes of the cup series, which starts tomorrow. Canadiens dropped into the third slot, qualifying to meet Chicago Black Hawks in the first round.

Only other time Ameriks and Rangers met in play-offs was in 1928-29 when Rangers took the two-game, total-goals series 1 to 0. This time, though, Rangers will be without Captain Art Coulter, suffering from leg injuries, while the veteran Americans expect to be at full strength.

Ameriks came through the hard way after dropping an 8 to 5 decision to the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday. Canadiens' 1 to 1 tie at home against Rangers the same night had given the Flying Frenchmen a two-point edge in the rating and Americans needed a complete form reversal to make the grade.

Boston Bruins and Chicago merely polished off for the playoffs last night as Bruins downed Black Hawks, 6 to 1, with a third period scoring flurry. Detroit's fallen world champions brought a bright ray to the end of a sad season by defeating Rangers, 4 to 3, at Detroit.

Rangers and Americans open their best of three round at the Garden tomorrow, while Black Hawks invade Montreal for the other playoff on the same basis. The league championship round, involving Boston and Toronto on a best-of-five plan, starts Thursday in Toronto. The winner meets the survivor among Rangers, Americans, Canadiens and Chicago for the Stanley Cup and the world title.

Coming along with a late rush, as crippled stars returned to their lineup, Canadiens seemed almost sure of second place when Paul Haynes brought them Saturday's tie. They threw rubber at Dave Kerr in the New York net all night, and if one more of the flock of shots had got by they'd have clinched the berth behind Toronto's leaders.

But Kerr was after his ninth shutout of the season and when Ott Heller gave Rangers a 1 to 0 lead in the first period his mates helped the goalie set up a stout barrier. They turned back everything until Paul Haynes broke in halfway through the third with the aid of Toe Blake and Johnny Gagnon.

Red Horner of Toronto and Art Coulter of Rangers, captains of their clubs, were tied for top position in penalties. Each had 80 minutes charged against him. The unofficial scoring leaders:

FARR TO MARRY
CHICAGO—Tommy Farr, British heavyweight champion boxer, and his fiancée, Eileen Wenzel, former 'Follies' 'Glamour Girl', were en route today to Hollywood, Calif., for a vacation visit. Farr said they would be married soon.

First Accident at Zeballos

The result of the first "traffic accident" at Zeballos, Vancouver Island's new gold mining field, is shown in the above picture. It represents what is left of a truck owned by Ray Pitre, manager of the Privateer Mine, hit by a tree during the height of last week's storm which caused extensive damage around the mining centre. The car was brought to Victoria for repair aboard the freighter Nordholm, which arrived Saturday. Captain A. W. Ogden, master of the Nordholm, said trees fell like matchsticks in the middle of the big wind which reached its height last Tuesday night. The main street of the town was under three feet of water and many of the residents in makeshift shelters were forced to flee to the post office to keep dry. Fortunately no one was hurt. Captain Ogden said, but some of the houses and tent frames were damaged. The Nordholm carried 85 tons of ore from the Privateer Mine for Tacoma smelters.

Victoria United In Smart Victory

Whip New Westminster Royals 5 to 2 in Inter-city Soccer League Clash

Victoria United strengthened their leadership position in inter-city football Saturday afternoon when they breezed through the visiting New Westminster Royals on the strong southwest wind to a 5 to 2 triumph at the Athletic Park. It was a squally, cold day and the pitch was plenty greasy, making it difficult for the players to control the ball and keep their feet. Close to 400 braved the elements to watch the match.

The United were in fine form, both from the standpoint of condition and playing strategy. They notched a pair of goals in the opening 45 minutes and succeeded in sniping another three in the final drive. The Royals scored their two tallies in the last half.

First half play was for the most part pretty even. Play switched repeatedly from end to end. Victoria took more advantage of their opportunities and while the Royals were a little weak in their forward line forays early in this session, readjusted their sights as the game progressed and gave Wally Rowe, United goalkeeper, lots of work to do. The Victorians dominated play for the most of the closing period and kept the backs and goalie Burnstead on their toes with frequent attacks. The visitors tallied their counters on sudden attacks.

GOAL AT 18 SECONDS

Right from the opening kick-off the local redshirts sallied into the enemy goal area and the referee's watch said 18 seconds when Burnstead beat Goale Burnstead with a tricky lob.

For the remainder of the half the teams battled it out on fairly net's corner. He got the pass from Barnswell.

The game was in its dying minutes when Dave Turner, Royals' inside left, piled in his team's only other tally. George Leggett and Jack Okell, on the Victoria defence guarded their goal area in fine fashion in this half.

"Scotty" Dowds refereed. Teams follow:

Victoria United—Rowe, Okell, Leggett, C. Robbins, Barnes, G. Robbins, Bell, Worswick, Barnswell, Morgan and Payne.

New Westminster Royals—Burnstead, Storness, Wheeler, Osowsky, Henderson, Gemmell, T. Wilkinson, M. Wilkinson, McNeil, Turner, McLeod and Carey.

Brentwood Club Players Champs

In the finals of the Duncan junior open badminton tournament played on Saturday, members of the Brentwood Club carried off the lion's share of the honors.

Jimmy Watt won the boys' singles and partnered with Gordie Sluggitt to capture the doubles. Joyce Carrier lifted the girls' singles and partnered with a Duncan girl to take the doubles honors.

Bob Fothergill Dies Suddenly

DETROIT — Robert (Bob) Fothergill, 39, idol of Detroit baseball fans when he performed in the outfield for Detroit Tigers, of the American League from 1921 to 1929, died in hospital yesterday.

Fothergill was taken to hospital Thursday after he suffered a stroke at his home.

Dictators Cause European Unrest

Present unrest in Central Europe was attributed to the rise of dictatorships among European nations by B. C. McKelvie in an address to the Ward Thru Conservative Association Friday night.

Mr. McKelvie warned Canadians to fight for the preservation of the right to do and act as they had always done and stoutly resist any move which might tend towards removal of individual freedom. Dictatorships he said were born through the curtailment of free speech and the freedom of the press.

J. Taylor was the chairman and Mrs. Taylor had charge of a short musical program to which the following contributed: Miss H. Watson, Miss G. Watson, Miss A. Spence, Miss James, F. Henderson, W. Lavery and F. Fletcher.

Beavers and muskrats are vegetarians; but most fur-bearing animals depend largely on rodents for food.

The Suit That Usually Serves TWO MASTERS

First of all, it serves YOU... tirelessly, faithfully, smartly. It never loses its stylish lines: it doesn't develop frayed edges; it doesn't take on a drab, worn look. This sort of thing may go on for years. Then, when finally you give it away, it proceeds to serve its SECOND master... Such a suit is a hand-tailored Lombardi suit, cut by really skilled tailors from the finest of Old Country fabrics, and hand-needle. Ask us about them!—$45.00 to $75.00.

Commission Asks For Definite Views

Government Asked to Answer 22 Questions For Rowell Board

The trend of the Rowell's commission's investigation suddenly took a new turn when it resumed sittings after the week-end this morning. J. McGregor Stewart, the commission's counsel, submitted 22 written questions to the government asking, in brief, what the government thinks about specific changes in its financial relations with Ottawa.

Premier Pattullo made a mild protest against being suddenly asked to deal with the questions, many of which involve matters of important government policy, but promised to be as helpful as possible. He said he would like a chance to interrogate someone in authority for the Dominion on several of them.

"We have put these questions in other provinces. In most cases they were answered; in some the information was not available," said Chairman Newton Rowell.

"We want to help," said the Premier, "but this is a large order involving policy. Who knows what is the best policy? Neither the Dominion, nor the commission, nor ourselves. It can only be arrived at by deliberation," said the Premier.

When the chairman explained that the commission simply wanted to be sure and get B.C.'s views, the Premier said the questions were highly important and should have been submitted to the government weeks ago.

"I should have thought they were inherent in the order-in-council covering the commission," said the chairman. "They are questions that vitally affect the relations between the Dominion and the provinces. In the other provinces we did not ask anything in writing, but simply questioned counsel as the case went along."

The Premier said the government would go as far as it could in answering them. Mr. Rowell also asked the Premier to define more clearly the distinction between his case for "better terms" with other provinces, and his case for general readjustment of relations between the provinces and Dominion.

The questions asked by the commission indicated generally the trend of the investigations across Canada. Among other things B.C. was asked to state its views on the Manitoba proposal to capitalize subsidies and be relieved by the Dominion of an amount of its debt equal to the capital sum; on whether it would accept debt control if a refunding scheme was carried out; what sort of machinery should be provided to get a province or municipality out of financial difficulties; whether it favors a grants commission on the Australian plan to adjudicate state claims; whether it thinks federal subsidies should be on a population basis or to meet fiscal needs of the provinces; on the Nova Scotia proposal for annual Dominion-provincial conferences; on economics in tax collection; whether it favors centralized collection like the Ontario income tax; uniform security and company laws; Dominion control of insurance; whether it favors the Dominion implementing international conventions by law; how the Dominion should administer old age pension and mothers' allowances if it took them over completely; whether old age pensions should be on a contributory basis and cover all the population as suggested by the C.M.A.; suggestions for lightening the tax burden on real estate; the question of exempting crown lands from taxation; what proportion of British Columbia exports go to Great Britain and to countries with which Canada has trade agreements; whether British Columbia favors the inclusion of a statement of fundamental rights of citizenship in the constitution.

Congratulations and good wishes were showered yesterday on Henry W. C. Boak, L.L.D., of 1740 Coronation Avenue, on the occasion of his 86th birthday. Mr. Boak was born in Halifax, N.S., and was for many years a member of the legal profession in Vancouver, until his retirement in 1932. He has three sons: Brigadier-General Henry Everson Boak, D.S.O., Halifax; Arthur E. R. Boak, Ph.D., chairman of the history faculty of the University of Michigan; and Dr. Eric Boak, B.A., M.P., Victoria.

GREAT QUEEN IS PORTRAYED

Atlas Theatre Shows "Victoria the Great" Which Stars Anna Neagle

Epic in its sweep as a historical drama, "Victoria the Great," is revealed more intimately as a love story whose charm and beauty are all the more appealing because of its royal setting.

This spectacular motion picture is now at the Atlas Theatre.

The Queen is brilliantly played by Anna Neagle. When the slim figure of the girl in white descends the grand staircase of Kensington Palace to hear that the King is dead, and she reigns over Great Britain in his stead, the spectators throb with sympathy for the inexperienced maiden upon whose frail shoulders such a mighty trust and burden have been laid.

Besides Anna Neagle, as Victoria, and her co-star, Anton Walbrook, distinguished Continental actor, in the part of Prince Albert, such names as H. B. Wagner, Walter Rilla and Mary Morris, Broadway favorite head a large and talented cast.

David O. Selznick's new technical comedy sensation "Nothing Sacred," co-starring Carole Lombard and Fredric March is now at the Plaza Theatre.

For sheer entertainment that will make an audience forget its inhibition and explode in raucous guffaws of mirth, "Nothing Sacred" is a perfect picture.

Enoch Downer is portrayed by Charles Winninger who comes to the big city just for the ride and aids and abets Carole Lombard as Hazel Flagg, the small town gal in perpetrating a colossal hoax that turns New York inside out. Fredric March is the ace reporter of the Morning Star, who concocts the "story of the century" with Carole as the central figure.

Life cast Barbara Stanwyck in a stern role from the very beginning, and though adversity has not embittered this brilliant actress, it is logical to infer that the hardships of a childhood spent in orphanages and in the homes of strangers had something to do with shaping her future dramatic career.

It was more than mere chance that caused Samuel Goldwyn to pick her out of numerous candidates for the prize screen role of the year in "Stella Dallas," which opened at the Oak Bay Theatre today.

With Marion Davies and Robert Montgomery as co-stars, and a supporting cast that includes such popular comedians as Frank McHugh, Patsy Kelly, Louise Fazenda and Allen Jenkins, the Warner Bros. Cosmopolitan comedy, "Ever Since Eve," is the second feature.

At his own request, no ceremony attended the presentation of the Motion Picture Academy Award—film-dom's highest mark of merit—to Charles Laughton, when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was in production. In this, his first film since winning the award, he plays Norma Shearer's grim father.

The actor won the honor for his brilliant work in "Henry the Eighth." The statuette was held until his arrival in Hollywood later. "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is now at the Columbia Theatre.

Lola Lane and Ramon Novarro are the stars in "The Sheik Steps Out," which is on the same program.

Disney Feature Here Saturday

Sprites, goblins, elves, pookas, cluricans, leprechauns, all the queer little, quaint little people that sometimes flit across the enchanted border of Fairyland into our matter-of-fact world to let ordinary mortals know how dreams can come true and romance be translated into reality, are to be seen in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the first Walt Disney picture made in full feature length and produced in Technicolor, will open at the Capitol Theatre on Saturday.

Facts About the Pacific

When I left Yokohama, I started upon a nonstop voyage across the North Pacific. The trip to British Columbia is about 4,300 miles long, and usually takes from nine to 12 days.

Many liners go by a southward route in order to call at Hawaii. I wanted to visit Hawaii, but gave up the plan to save time. With a stop at Hawaii, a trip to North America takes several days longer.

Among the interesting animals of the Pacific are flying fish. A view of one of them, from above, is shown.

Hawaii is famous for two active volcanoes—Mauna Loa and Kilauea. These volcanoes have poured forth thousands of tons of lava, and have helped build up the island, which is one of a dozen islands in the Hawaiian group.

Like some other islands of the Pacific, Hawaii arose from the bottom of the sea. Lava broke forth at the sea bottom, and became hard rock. Later eruptions built up a mighty cone, and in the course of the ages it rose above the water surface.

The eruptions kept on happening, and today a mountain in Hawaii rises more than two and a half miles above sea level. The height of this volcanic mountain, from the sea bottom to the top of the highest peak, is close to six miles.

There are so many other islands, and island groups, in the Pacific that it would take hundreds of words just to give their names. The East Indies, New Zealand, the Philippines and the islands of Japan are the best known.

Near the island of Mindanao (in the Philippine group) is what has been called "the deepest spot in the world." The water there goes down more than six and a half miles. It is about half a mile deeper than the extremely deep place east of the main island of Japan.

The bottom of the Pacific rises and rolls very much like dry land. There are places in mid-ocean where under-water mountains rise nearly to the surface. The depth of the Pacific ocean, if we take a general average, is about two and a half miles. That is half a mile deeper than the average depth of the Atlantic.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but not compel."

Tuesday, March 22, 1938

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day, although benefic aspects dominate. Venus is in kindly way, encouraging a youthful romance.

Women today are under fortunate guidance which should stimulate them to useful activities. The stars encourage many forms of public service.

Amusement should be well patronized, especially by men who seek surcease from anxiety regarding business plans.

This should be a fortunate rule under which to write letters and to sign contracts. There is assurance of much activity among merchants and manufacturers, though foreign news may be rather alarming.

Neptune is in adverse aspect through the evening and may presage international misunderstandings. This configuration aids those who desire to deceive and encourage pretenders.

Exposure of waste of public funds and organized grafts in many cities may be numerous in the next few weeks. Sensational criminal trials will clog the courts.

May is likely to be unlucky for stockbrokers and holders of securities. The markets of the world will fluctuate sharply.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of happiness to which members of the family contribute greatly. Children will fulfill high ideals.

Children born on this day probably will be talented and successful. Subjects of this sign of Aries are usually strong-willed, enthusiastic and energetic. Many have artistic genius.

Rosa Bonheur, noted French painter, was born on this day 1822. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Sir Anthony Dyck, Flemish artist, 1509; Thomas Crawford, sculptor, 1814.

What Do Men Think About Women?

Dorothy Dix

How Do Men Want to Be Treated?

WHAT DO MEN really think about women? What specific qualities do men find attractive in women? How do men want women to treat them? What is the best method of catching and holding one of these illusive animals?

These are the things that women want to know more than anything else in the world, but heretofore they have had no way of finding out. The real attitude of men toward women has been a deep dark secret that they have hidden in the innermost recesses of their souls, and so women have been reduced to making guesses at what men like about them that were mostly the wrong answers and playing hunches that failed to win out.

Now, however, the mystery has been solved. At long last a man has broken all the taboos of his tribe and written a book which he calls "The Way to His Heart," in which he tells just what things about women make a hit with men and what leaves them cold. The book reveals how to go about wrangling dates from boys and how to camouflage the path to the altar so artfully that the bridegroom won't know he is on his way until he is there.

It is an entertaining and amusing little volume that will doubtless become a sort of debaucher's Bible, for it tells them the things about men that it takes most women until they are 35 to find out, when the information comes too late to do them any good. Such as, for instance, that even the most timid and mousey of men, who are so afraid of women they are ready to run if one shakes a skirt at them, want to be thought gay Lotharios and perfect devils among the fair sex that none can resist, and that nothing attracts a man to a woman so much as for her to be easily amused and enjoy things.

Also, he warns women against the suicidal folly of ever letting men find out that they know more than men do; or play a better game of bridge or golf, or draw a better salary in business. Even in conversation they must "assist" instead of leading it, and make the man feel that he thought of the thought first and that they are merely following along in his wake, picking up the pearls of wisdom that he scattered.

Likewise, he advises women to watch their steps and study a man's moods in dealing with him, so that they may know just how to always strike the right note with him and not snuggle up to him for a little petting when he has had a bad dinner, or been to a dull party, or lost too much money at cards, and all that he wants to do is to knock somebody's block off instead of kiss.

Now these revelations of the workings of a man's mind and affections as they appertain to femmes are highly interesting. But the trouble with them is that a woman would have to be a mind-reader, a prophetess and a self-abnegating saint to put them into practice. Few girls, alas, possess these gifts or have any occult power by which they can tell whether when a man invites them to an expensive night club they should go along and drink champagne, or say, "Oh, no, let's go to the movies instead and have a soft drink afterward at the drugstore." They don't even know whether the yearning look they see in a man's eyes means love, or that he has missed his lunch. So how?

This isn't dumbness on women's part. It is just that nobody knows what a man thinks about women, or what he wants in women, or what he admires in women, because he doesn't know himself. Probably there never was a man who hadn't his ideal woman figured out to the last hair on her head. She was always going to be beautiful and intelligent and domestic and thrifty and meek and mild, and have a little money and look up to him as a little tin god.

And then some day he met a wild hoyden who was everything on earth that his dream girl wasn't, and she set his pulses fluttering. She became the one and only woman in the world he desired, and he married her.

Well-known Ferry Ships End Careers

Sol Duc, Indianapolis and City of Victoria Among Fleet of Idle Ships

Three ferry ships, well-known in this port, are among a fleet of ships whose days are done, and which are lying idle in Seattle's Lake Washington.

The three so well known here are the Sol Duc, the City of Victoria and the Indianapolis.

The Sol Duc is almost legendary.

For years she connected

Victoria with Seattle, via the open water route to Port Angeles. Many were the storms she fought and many the thrills she gave her passengers, as she wallowed in big seas in the open stretch between Race Rocks and Port Angeles.

She was built in 1912 in Seattle and retired from active service a few years ago. She relieved other ships of the Puget Sound

Navigation Company's fleet, however, but now it appears she will no longer sail the seas.

CARRIED TOURISTS

The City of Victoria operated, in the great tourist rush of eight years ago, between Victoria and Edmonds. Several times she ran around and on her maiden trip from Victoria ran into a wharf in the Inner Harbor here, in order to avoid a collision with Ss.

Olympic. She carried thousands in those years.

She is an old ship and has given excellent service in her day.

It was in 1893 that she was launched at Sparrow Point, Maryland. For years she ran on Chesapeake Bay before being brought to the Pacific Northwest.

The Indianapolis a few years ago came to Victoria three times a week with excursionists from

Seattle. She was built at Toledo,

Ohio, in 1904, and came round the Horn from the Great Lakes.

Other ships, idle in Lake Washington waters, where the winds and the rains are taking their toll, are the Hyak, the Kulshan, the Mohawk, the City of Bremerton, the Tacoma, the Oregon,

the Belline and the Airline, the Quil-cemthe, Comanche, the F. G.

Reeve, the Washington and the ghostliest of them all, the Morning Star, which has been out of service for 20 years, but which formerly plied between Puget

Sound and British Columbia ports

in service for the Frank Waterhouse Company.

EYES AS BUTTONS

At a London restaurant the other day a woman was attracting a great deal of attention because of her buttons. She wore on her coat six buttons in the shape of human eyes, three blue and three brown, with dark pupils and the effect was rather horrible and uncanny.

Vancouver Link

With Y.T. Plane

EDMONTON (CP)—Passengers and mail will fly between Edmonton, some Peace River district and Yukon Territory points, and Vancouver in one day under revised schedule the United Air

Transport announced yesterday.

G. W. G. McConachie, president of the line, said the Post Office

Department had granted permission for the schedule to permit the weekly Edmonton plane to make connections with the Vancouver plane at Fort St. John,

B.C.

Under the new arrangement

the weekly flights will be continued. Each Thursday planes will leave Edmonton and Vancouver, arriving about the same time at Fort St. John. One will continue to Whitehorse, Y.T., while the other will return to Edmonton.

Each Sunday machines will leave Edmonton and Whitehorse and connect at Fort St. John, one continuing from there to Vancouver, the other to Edmonton.

The discarded schedule did not provide for mail connection with Vancouver.

Boating Parties

Lost in Harbor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Discovery of two overturned motorboats, the Mistake and the Misfortune led police to conclude today five of six persons known to have been on the small craft had perished in the wind-whipped waters of San Francisco Bay.

One body, that of George Conrad, 25, was recovered after it had been held above the surface for hours by the only survivor of the double tragedy, Robert G. Ashworth, 19.

Those missing and believed dead were: Nello Bertolotti, 25;

Walter Rosa, 28, and Walter Rosa,

25, cousins of the same name, and

Raymond Nichols, 29.

The overturned boats, whose names lent a touch of irony to the tragedy, were found floating between Yerba Buena Island and the Oakland shore. There was no trace of the missing men.

Liner Withdrawn After Three Fires

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—

The Cunard White Star Line has withdrawn the $2,000-ton liner

Berengaria from trans-Atlantic service following three mysterious fires aboard her in the last five weeks.

Two of the fires broke out when the big liner was at Southampton and one while she was docked in New York. The latter blaze did damage to her luxurious lounge of $10,000 and caused her passengers to be transferred to the flagship Queen Mary. She crossed the Atlantic without passengers and a few hours after her arrival at Southampton the third fire broke out.

Around the Docks

After battling one of last week's storms off the west coast of Vancouver Island and loading lumber

at Port Alberni and Port Tassie,

the British freighter Queen Adelaide arrived at Ogden Point early this afternoon to load for the United Kingdom.

The new British motorship

Anglo India loaded lumber at

Ogden Point for eastern Canada

yesterday and left late in the afternoon for Port Alberni to complete.

Ss. Rothley, which took 1,000-000 feet here for Australia, left at daybreak yesterday for Melbourne.

Saturday's gale delayed the docking here of the Orient-bound

Empress of Asia, which was forced to anchor in the Royal

Roads, following her arrival from Vancouver. She went alongside the Rithet Pier about 6 p.m., when the wind dropped, and left two hours later for Yokohama.
